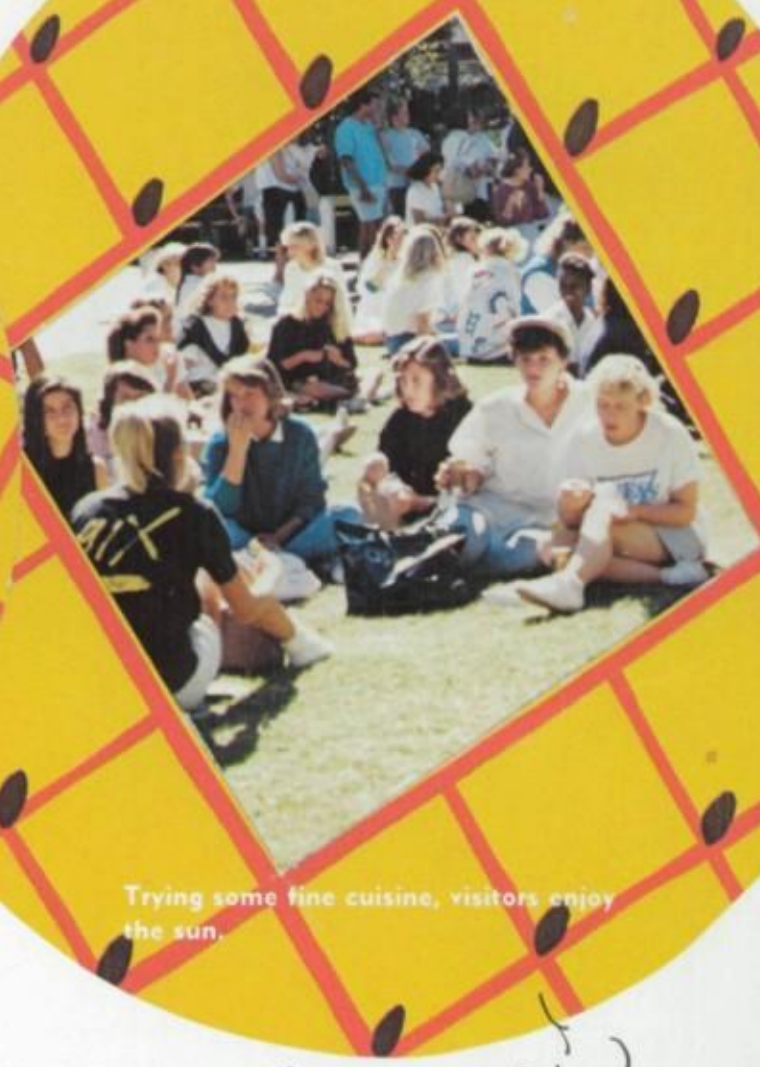
Enthusiastically, Dorian Williams models the newly required sports/leisure attire.



Trying some fine cuisine, visitors enjoy the sun.

Have you ever wanted to go away? Go to a place of your dreams? A place with sun, sand, and lots of gorgeous guys and girls? Welcome to that place — Club M.B. It's a luxurious resort just off Grand Avenue. Visitors have a choice of various activities to keep them busy. We also have World-Famous cuisine and Ice-Cold beverages to cool you off if the sun gets too intense. All this and more is yours for the incredibly low price of sitting in class six hours a day for 184 days a year. We're glad you made the trip to club M.B. Now, sit back and enjoy the guidebook.

This Is The Life??

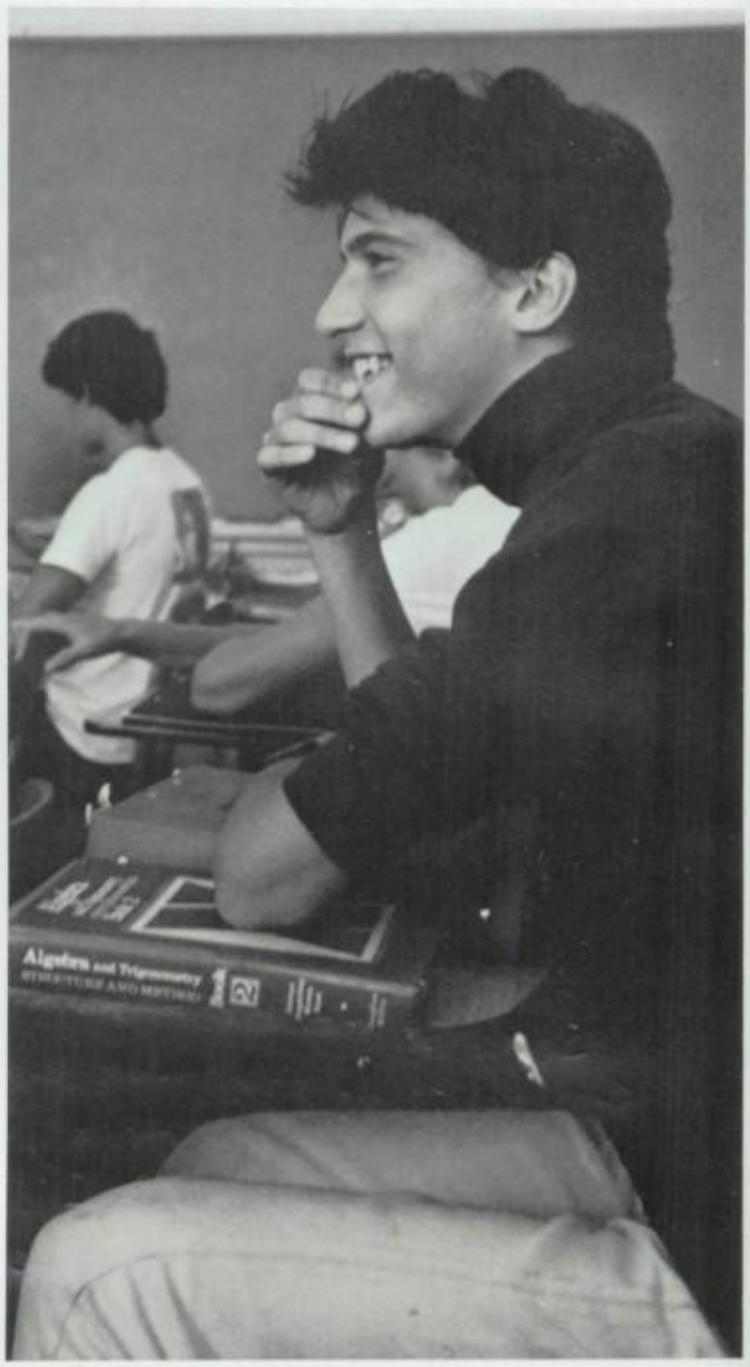
Math can be fun, and Rebecca Kinney's smile proves that Club M.B. is the greatest.

Ms. Polanco's lecture on the Pythagorean theorem amuses Will Harper.



"Where's the party, dude?" inquires Brandi Thorkelson.

Suzanne grooves to her tunes.

Displaced by the painting crew, Gabriela, Laura, Gustavo and friends have class in the cafeteria.

The parking lot serves as a lunch hangout for Glen Griffin and Kelli Reese.

Four is company at lunch. Greeting us in the hall, Dawna Johnson, Caroline Noonan and Sue Burden flash their warm smiles.

Cokeologist Cynthia Hacker quenches her thirst as she strolls to class.

This Is The Life!!

In the weight room, Paul McDowell and Walt DeRosia find a way to work off the pressures of school.

This 1986-87 school year has brought many traditions back to Mission Bay.

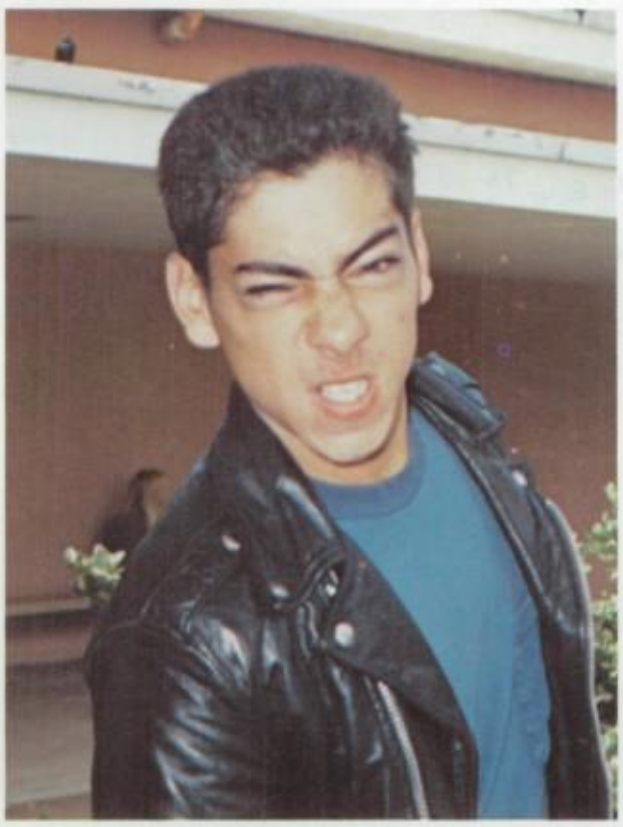
Like waking up at 6:00 or earlier, taking a shower, grabbing a quick breakfast and making your way to school with whatever mode; walk, ride a bike, drive a car, or skate.

Once at school, talking with friends about the weekend, the game, who and what, the difficult homework in math and what is going on after school.

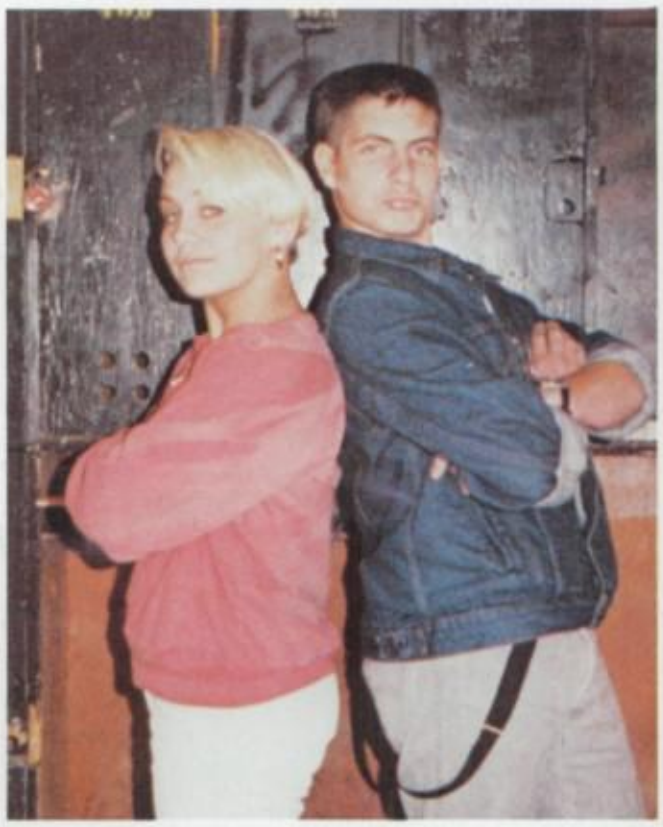
Then on to your locker before the first class. Listening to lectures, taking notes, and those painstaking homework assignments, and finally, LUNCH!!!!

The rest of the afternoon goes by lazily until freedom!!!!

Time to leave this paradise and go home and prepare for another exciting day at Club M.B.



"Another pleasant day at Mission Bay," growls Marc Balanky.



A case of irreconcilable differences, Joe Rubin and Cori Hitchcock reach in impasse.

Commissioners of Athletics, Kori Rucker and Ernest Johnson practice their speeches.

Taken by surprise, Keith Wickham is cut short on his comment.

Ms. Edward's class seems to thrill Marc Gariss and George Arrizabalaga.

Surprised by the art slides, Jessica Ferzt and Christina LaValle debate art as a career.

After voting for Homecoming Queen, Marilyn Gee, Jeni White and Brian Doocy decide what to do for lunch.

Expressions

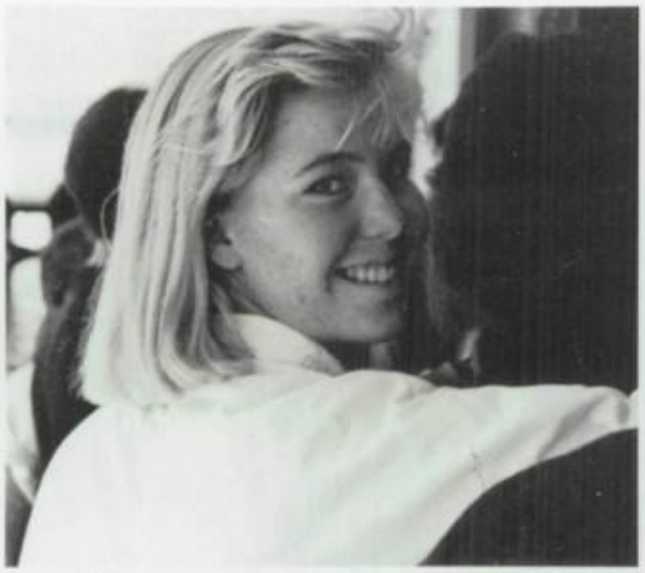
People display their personalities in a variety of ways. We have captured on film the enthusiasm and relaxation of visitors to our warm tropical paradise. The people said that they found Club M.B. a healthy and fun, yet challenging place. Junior Jeannie Anderson described the visitors to Club M.B. this way: "People at Club M.B. can express themselves in a variety of different ways because there is something for everyone." It satisfied their desires for rest during lunch, clubs, sports, classes, dances, and lunch time competitions for entertainment, while at the same time, provided them with a quality education. You won't find a dull person here since everyone has unique expressions that can be found at Club M.B.

A.S.B. Ball planner, Laura Moceri, contemplates a suitable theme.



Because she succeeds in opening her locker, Debbie Veborg avoids tardiness.

Galloping to the attendance office for a blue slip, Ralph Jimenez stops for nothing.

"We are the best of friends!" exclaim Leah Leiker and Sam Noland.

Thinking hard, Jane Truman and Ed Barret try to come up with the answer to life.

Attentively listening to her math teacher, Christina Nerhood smirks at the interruption.

After forgetting her English book, Mary Ager rushes to finish her assignment.

Who's Here At Club M.B.

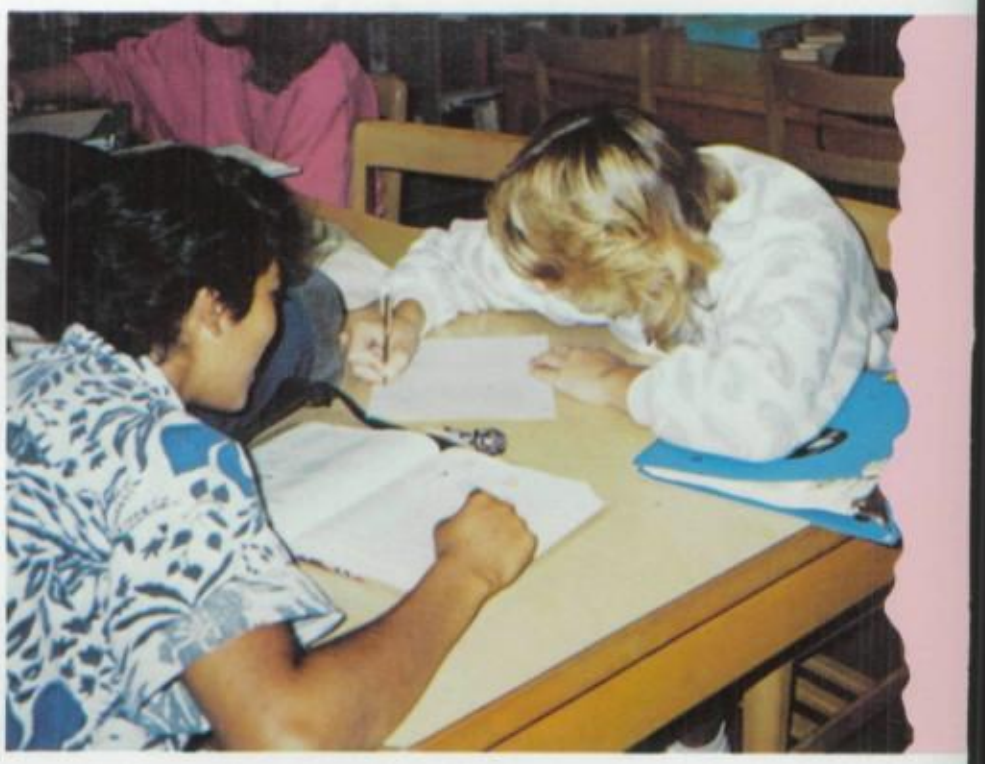
Erasing a nonsuit, Robert Enberg, Sam Noland, and Leah Lekier can even make sweeping the blacktop fun.

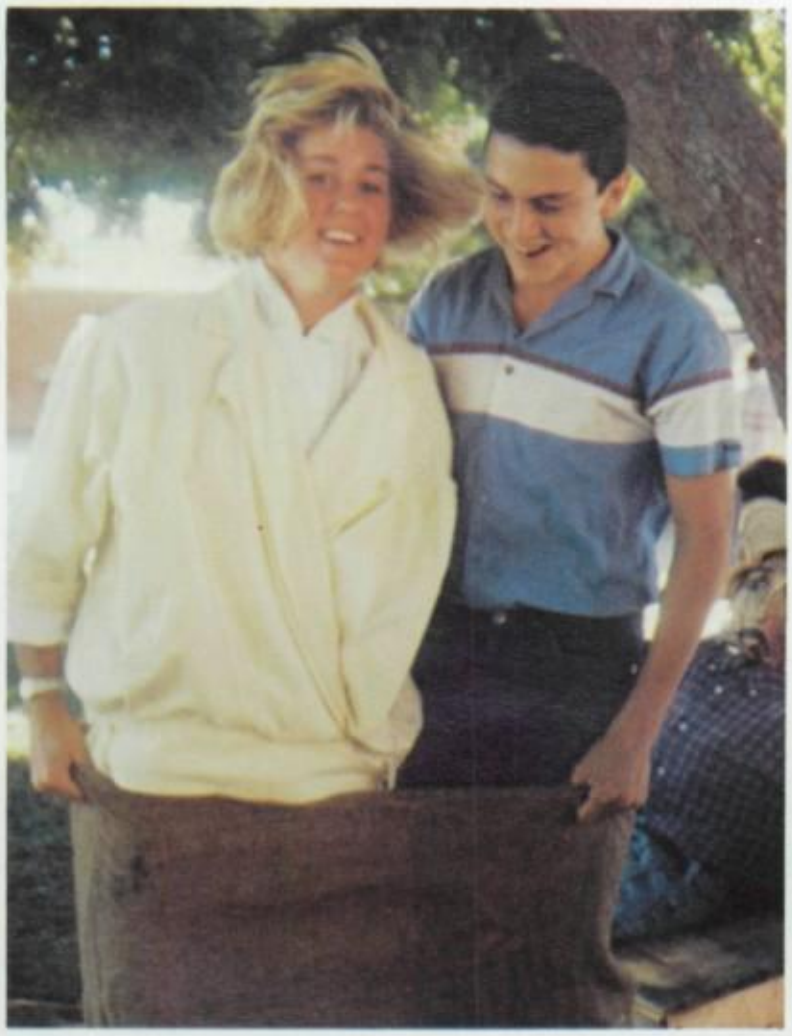
Tugging their way to victory, the sophomores defeat the juniors.



Putting aside the leisurely lifestyle of Club MB, Lorena Aviles and Marissa Pound keep their academics in mind.

Studying in the senior hall, Marc Brown and John Glawson occupy space.

Many qualities make up a prospective visitor to Club MB. The people we have here blend together to create a unique effect of a carefree environment to relax in and adapt to. Although most students don't know it, they possess a lot of the same qualities. We have studious, fun loving, and athletic people here. Junior class president Sandra Geiger expressed it best when she said, "The person that goes to Club MB is usually a party going person. The MB student can also be very serious about their academics at the same time. They are very outgoing and show a lot of school pride and spirit. The Club MB student exemplifies pride, excellence, and dignity."



Always willing to participate, Robert Guardiola and Kori Rucker jump in the sack.

Training her troops, Ms. Malley watches on as she prepares for war with the hockey sticks.

Relaxing on the weed patch, Mission Bayers enjoy the sun.

Buc's Feast

Eagerly awaiting the delicious cuisine, students discuss the game.

"Won't anybody join us?" exclaims Mrs. Russell.

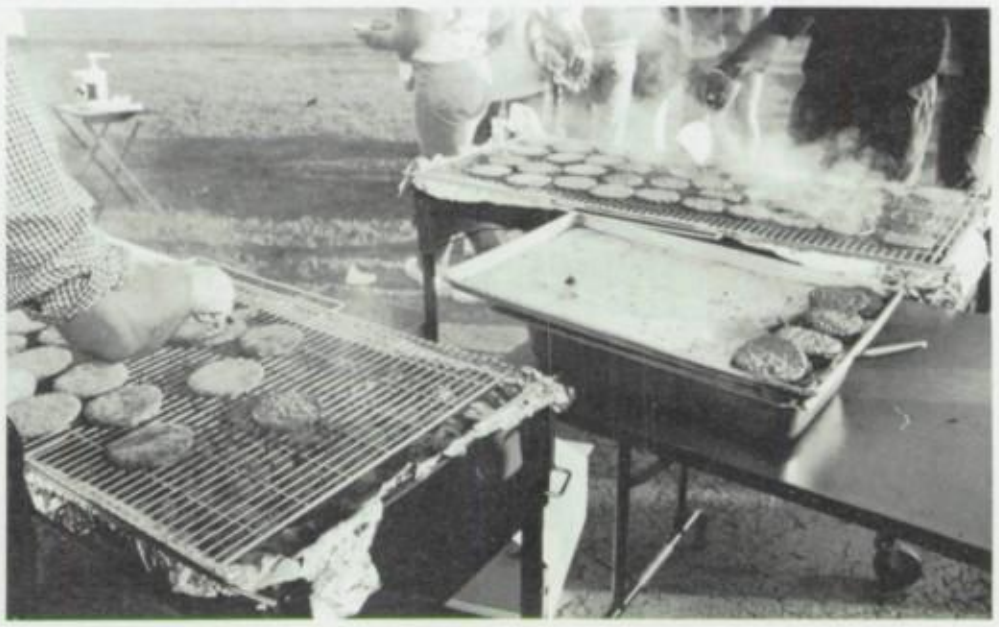
The varsity football team, poised for victory, faced the Clairemont Chiefs and by halftime led 7-0. The score remained 7-0 throughout the game. The excitement of roping the Chiefs built up a lot of outrageous appetites, cured by the Buc BBQ, which followed the game. Hamburgers with all the toppings and chili served as the main course. Pineapple, salad, and baked goods completed the menu. Many students and teachers showed their true ravenous spirits by going back for seconds, thirds, and fourths. Coach Harutunian stated, "The Buc BBQ had been larger in past years, but this year it turned out to be a success."

Coaches Pugh and Whatley reinforce Buc confidence.

it's me, CJ Frey #82. my 2nd interception of the game, 5th of the year. cherish this, it's the last time I'll play football.

CJ Frey

Leaping above and beyond, Pat Merrifield goes for the ball.



Chefs struggle to keep up with voracious appetites.

The main course, ready to be scarfed down, tantalizes.

The Bucs ...

Come busting out.

"All food and some play", states Charlett Collins.

Mission Bay Goes Western

Spirited students dress to western theme.

Demonstrating how to hoedown are Michelle L., Tamarin S., and Heather S.

Dressed to the ultrabright smiles, are Dina Silva, Mary Berger, and friends.

Western theme invades dance floor! The first dance of the year took place in the school gym on October 17, 1986 at 8:00 p.m. Earlier that day, the varsity football team roped the Clairemont Chiefs 7-0. The winning game and Buc BBQ prepared students for a spirited western dance. Many students pulled out their western duds for the hoedown. An exceptionally large crowd of over 200 enjoyed the 91X and 92.5 style of soul and new wave music. At their leisure, they rested and refreshed themselves with punch and pretzels and enjoyed the decorations of scarecrows and streamers. A thrilling game, an excellent meal, and a little western spirit resulted in a delightful day.

Western style by Michelle Linville, Tamarin Star, Shawn Murphy, and Candace Casutt.

Seniors Ernest, Dwain, Carolyn, and Tom express their opinion of the dance.

Think it's time for a slow dance.

Victoria Shaffer and friend eagerly await the next dance.

A couple relishes an intriguing moment.

Wishful thinking comes true for Darren Magot.

Catch The Spirit

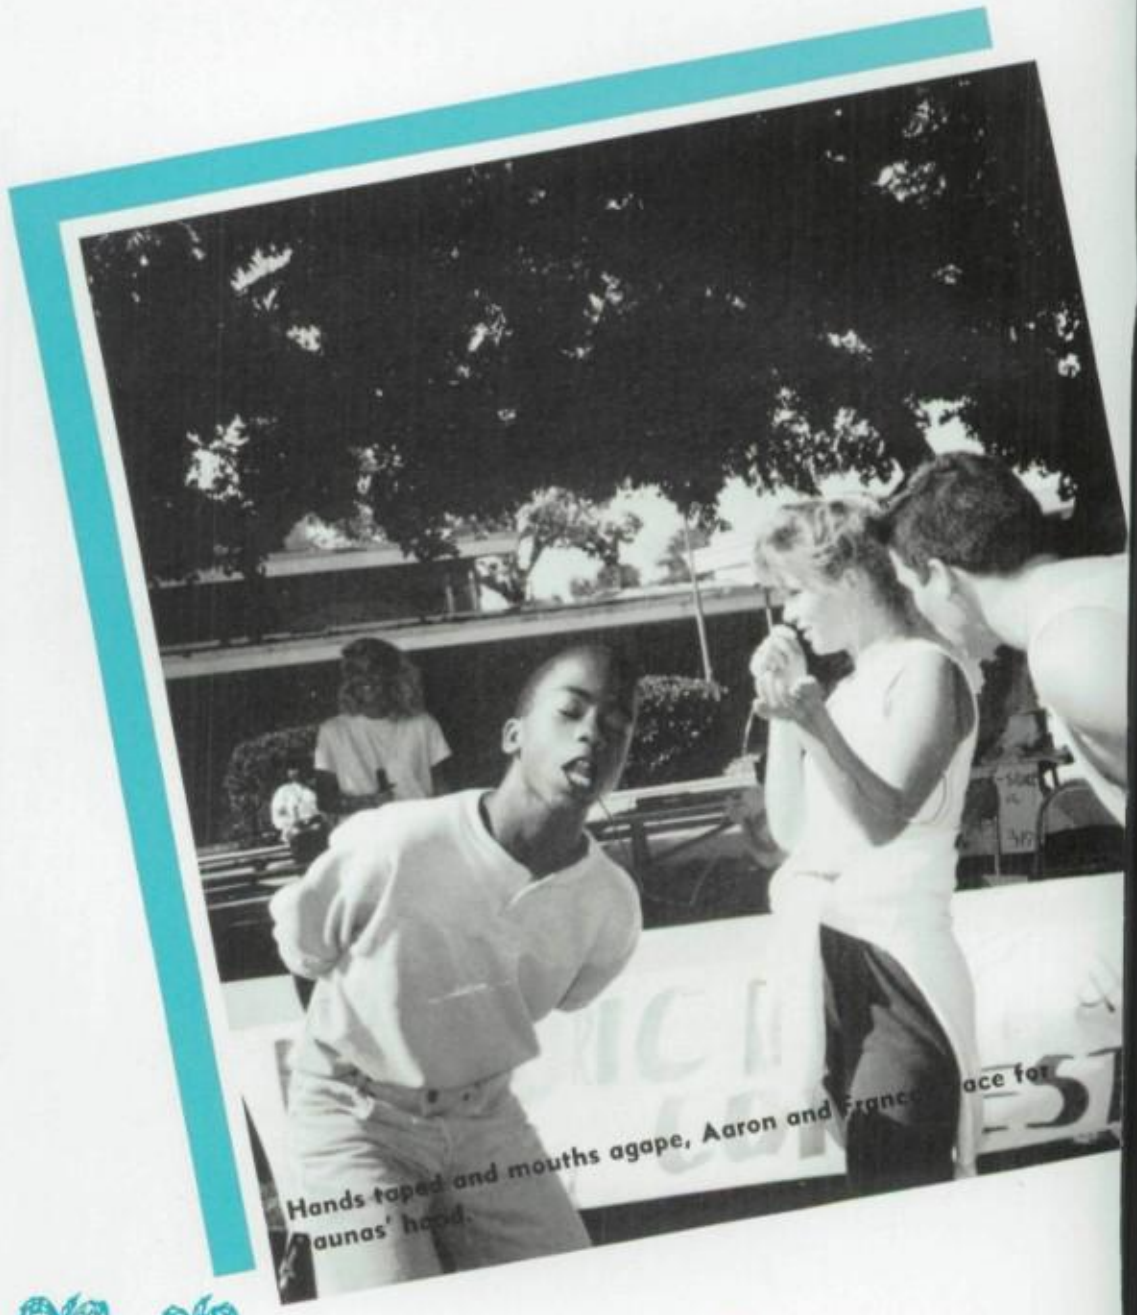
Four fearsome freshmen, Robert Gornot, Ty Martin, Danielle Fahlsing, and Mike Roblee, flounder against the sophomores.

Spirit Week promotes spirit and amusement during lunch. Spirit Week, held on the week of Oct. 13-17 on the weed patch, made our school a pleasant place to be. "There were many activities to participate in," said Kori Rucker, the first place winner of the stick horse obstacle race. These activities included a corn-on-the-cob eating contest, potato sack race, tug of war, stick horse obstacle course, and last but not least ... the rally. Our second spirit week, held Nov. 3-7, included the tricycle race, licorice eating contest, 4 legged race, eating relay race, and spirit cake. The winners always won a ticket to a dance or to a varsity football game. Spirit Week gives us spirit and something that everyone enjoys: laughter and fun.

With great finesse, Kevin O'Connel stuffs his mouth during the eating relay race.



Hands taped and mouths agape, Aaron and Franc[illegible]ace for Saunas' hand.

Feeding Kevin Moreland while buttering the next cob proves to be a challenge for Mike Ede.

As they approach the hurdle, Seniors Pat Merrifield, Aaron Bristol and David Williams prepare to jump.

Victoria and Dawn dig out their money for lunch.

Awaiting the ball, Chris Fernandez prepares to cut left.

At the end of the dance, Club M.B.'s cheerleaders fly high.

The royalty of Club M.B. shone brightly on the day of our Homecoming, November 7, 1986. The Bucs encountered Kearny High School in a hard fought game. During half-time, the reigning queen of 1985, Laura Thile, passed on her crown to Laura De Los Santos. When asked what she felt after the announcement of her name as the new Homecoming Queen, Laura De Los Santos replied, "I saw stars and I was very happy that I represented the first Mexican to be Homecoming Queen." The Homecoming Court also included the senior attendants, Sue Burden, Heather Stearns, Kori Rucker, and Michelle Linville, with their escorts, Billy Olson, Kevin Alexander, Paul Meyers, and David Greene. Jamie Minton, the Junior attendant; Kristin Gullens, the Sophomore attendant; and Trish Rogness, the Freshman attendant, comprised the rest of the court. Cars that ranged from Volkswagon Rabbits to a 1957 Thunderbird delivered the entire court to the football field. The cheerleaders' dance to "Private Number" and a sign that floated down from many balloons with Laura De Los Santos' name written on it culminated the half-time activities. Laura De Los Santos and the rest of Club M.B.'s royal court glimmered brilliantly on their special day.

As half-time arrives, Dawna and Lori deliver the banner announcing the queen.

A 1957 vintage Thunderbird carries Kori onto the field.

Enthusiastic fans show their vim and vigor.

A Peachy Evening At The Club

Members of the club enjoy engaging in rhythmic succession of their steps.

The newly crowned queen and her escort enjoy the first dance.

"Oooow Baby! That's what I like!" exclaims Jeannie Anderson's escort.

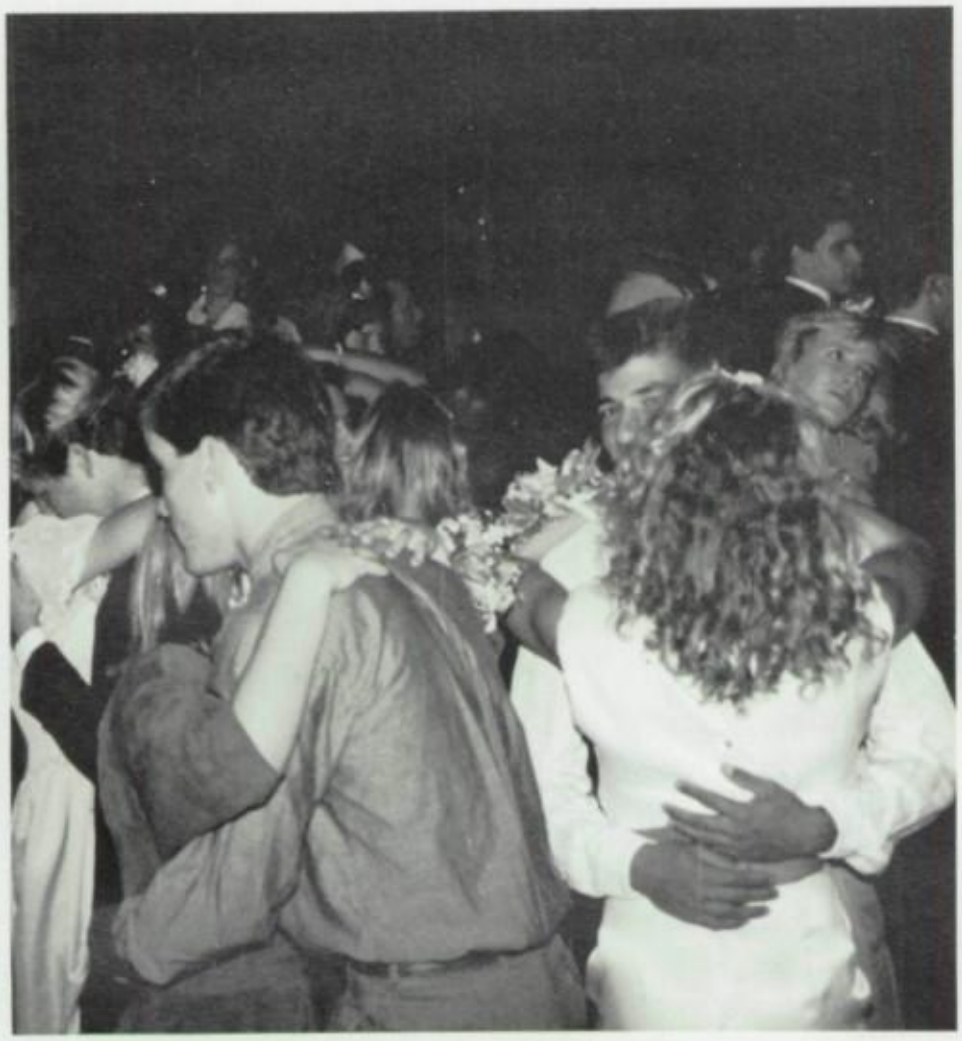
"My make-up is on; my hair is done; my shoes match my dress; my nylons have no runs; I have the perfect escort; now if only I have a good time." These may have been some of the sentiments felt by the Homecoming Court just before their escorts arrived to usher them to the Homecoming Dance at Club M.B.'s own Gymnasium.

The evening, a memorable one for all who attended, began with a D.J. providing upbeat music for everybody. Throughout the night, couples relished the aura of fun and romance which often accompanies a special evening such as this one. Aside from dancing, couples had the opportunity to have their pictures taken and most of all the opportunity to create lasting memories. "I'll best remember strolling through the archway of peach and white balloons with my honey," quipped Aaron Bristol.

Anxious couples wait patiently for pictures.

These avid onlookers enjoy the happening scene.

Romantic twosomes get close.



Posing picture perfect, Marti and Jeff

After whispering sweet-nothings in her honey's ear, Heather and Abe take time out to cool off.

The Sights Seen On Halloween

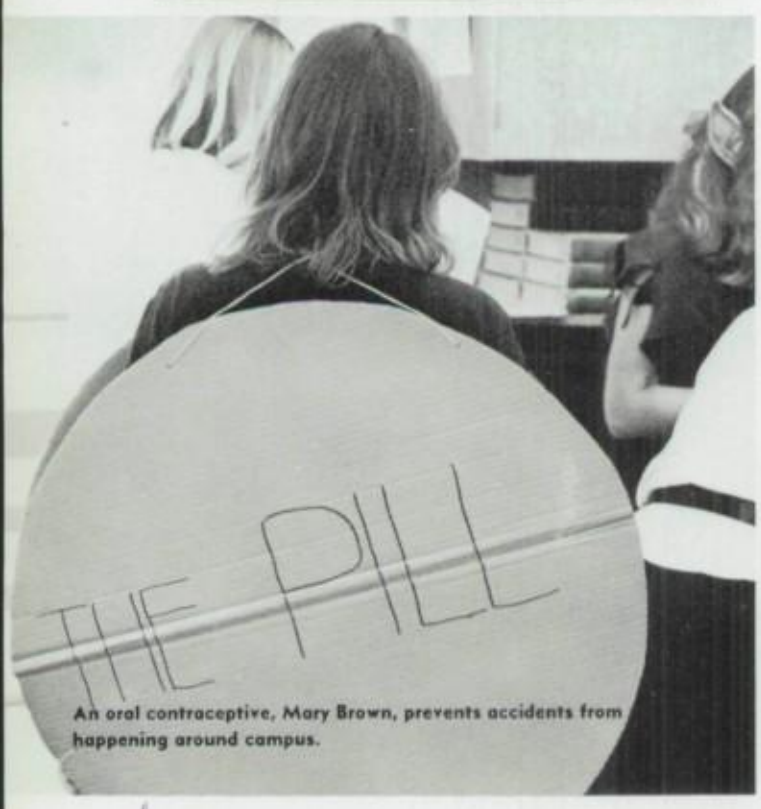
On October 31, our tropical island paradise transformed itself into a haven for vampires, bumblebees, contraceptives, transvestites, angels, and various members of the religious order. The festivities started off with a homeroom pumpkin carving contest. Mr. Willis's homeroom won first prize with a pumpkin person, complete with cow eyes, pig ears, and a tongue. The majority of students dressed this year in strange, bizarre costumes. Senior, Camille Sallave, commented, "I felt stupid because I didn't dress up." Debbie Porter and Bill Fiscus won the costume contest dressed as Lilian and Herman Munster of the enormously popular T.V. show. Some of the crowd favorites included Joey Carono as a bumblebee, Keith Henderson as a pregnant nun, Doug Gora as a priest, and Annika Rahe dressed as a mermaid. The day proved to be loads of fun, and since Halloween fell on a Friday, the weekend parties went on in full swing.

"The return of the flower child," stars Charles Turecek.



An oral contraceptive, Mary Brown, prevents accidents from happening around campus.

The tension mounts for these hopeful costume contestants.

"We've Got Spirit, Yes We Do!"

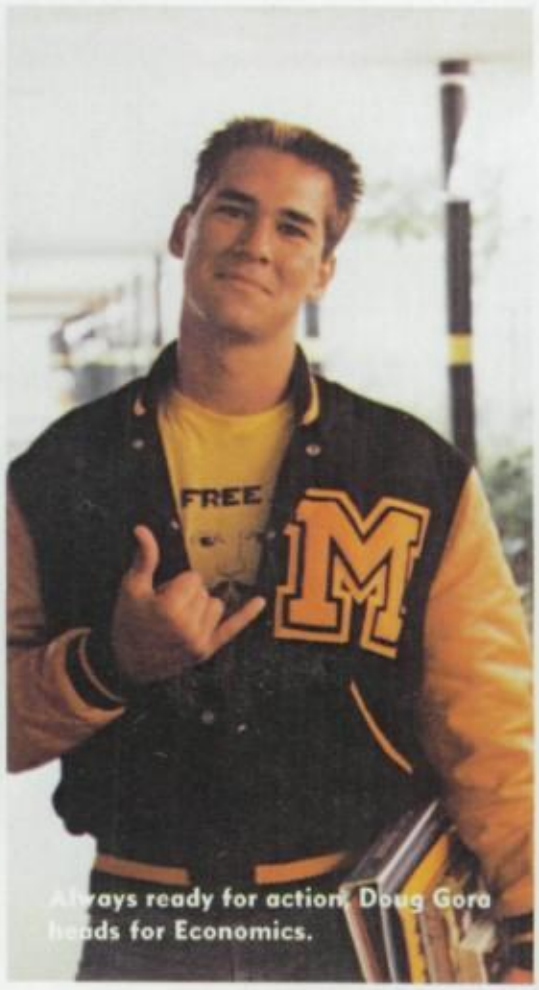
"Ouch Coleen! You're pulling my hair," cried Dawn.



Always ready for action, Doug Gora heads for Economics.

It's been 3 years since Keith Berkley crawled out of his cave.

Mission Bay Football jerseys should not have been the only unusual dress evident each Friday. Cheerleaders arrived in uniform, and a majority of students displayed the school colors of black and gold in their attire. "The whole idea of Fridays is to increase school spirit, and what better way to do that than to dress in colors only M.B. Bucs can appreciate!" explained sophomore cheerleader, Kim Myron. So if you have been told to wear black and gold on a Friday, and you didn't, don't you feel guilty now? Don't, because spirit exemplifies a key aspect of our school experiences, and you can show school spirit in many different ways. Spirit happens to be obvious at special times like Spirit Week, but it also became a general feeling that followed us around campus on a daily basis. Often the tangible products of showing spirit happened on the weedpatch. People received a raffle ticket for a $5.00 discount off of the annual and a piece of Spirit Cake. Wearing black and gold showed the positive side of M.B.H.S.

"Wear Black And Gold." We've Been Told,

Lee nails come in fashion colors especially on the spirited fingers of Laura De Los Santos.

Spirit can be discovered in every corner of our campus.

The Cheerleading Squads spent hours during the football season making "run through signs." Every week, at the end of half-time, the football team dashed under the goalposts and crashed through these large banners. The cheerleaders proudly held up these large works of art to be torn apart. "It gets the whole team wild," stated sophomore junior varsity football player, Jason Cordero. The football team strived to defeat their opponents, and the cheerleaders kept on making new banners. The crowds remained faithful and enthusiastically cheerful, led by such school institutions as the Pep Band with its famous "Tequila", the Pep Club members with all their spontaneous spirit, and, of course, the vivacious M.B. mascot. The Cheerleaders persevered in making the quiet fans loud with excitement and cheers.

As The Stomach Churns

Weedpatch gossip fills up the lunch hour.

Time out, thank goodness! It approached 11:05 and all seemed well. You felt so hungry, your stomach churned with the anxious feeling of starvation. Ahh! Lunching on the weedpatch proved to be a great way to relax and get away from everything: your classes, homework, tests, or teachers. You took advantaae of the half hour lunch break by kicking back on the weedpatch with a coke in one hand and a sandwich in the other while watching the weedpatch activities. They inevitably included seagulls flying overhead and the Varsity football players throwing food at the J.V. cheerleaders.

The weedpatch couldn't have been the only exciting place to eat though. If you really wished to get away from everything, you either walked, ran, or hitched a ride off campus to eat at such extravagant places as Der Wienerschnitzel, Yum Yum-Donuts, Burger King, Taco Bell, or 7-Eleven. But you had to remember lunch didn't last forever. You had to leave this paradise of a lunch break to get to your next class by 11:45. "I wished we had more time," explained sophomore class president, Jenny Delroy.

Shh! You were back in class now and, closed off from all fun, communication with friends, and unknown gossip. Lunchtime tomorrow looked very appetizing.

Fearlessly, Kevin O'Connell goes in for the kill.

While waiting in line; David Greene, Ian Pate, Tony Panfillipo, and Mike Whalen ponder over how to have their way.

We found various things that allure the guests to the club. Extracurricular activities interested many people. These activities included watching Ernest Johnson maneuver down the fields, observing Sean Rees hurl his famous fast ball, cheering on Camille Sallave, formal and informal dances, and many different clubs and groups. # 86-87 What To Remember Reagan & Gorbachev stand side by side but miles apart after the impromptu summit in Iceland stalled over Star Wars.

Each year has its share of tragedies and triumphs, and this year was no exception. After a two-year makeover, Miss Liberty was ready to meet her public. To salute the century-old statue, America put on the grandest Fourth of July bash ever. Thirty-three naval vessels and 22 tall ships sailed into New York harbor, escorted by a 40,000-boat flotilla; later the site exploded in a 28-minute barrage of pyrotechnics. Other attractions included 5,000 homing pigeons, 75 gryating Elvis look-alikes, an exuberant President Reagan and six million happy on-lookers. The real dimensions of Ronald Reagan's biggest diplomatic disaster became visible the day the president, in a notably brief appearance before the White House press corps, acknowledged that he had not been "fully-informed" about his aides' activities in the sale of weapons to Iran. "What did the president know and when did he know it?" The two men who seemed to know the most, former national-security adviser John Poindexter and former staffer Oliver North, pleaded the Fifth Amendment and Reagan's credibility was in tatters. Their faces said it all. Ronald Reagan and Mikhail Gorbachev emerged on October 12 from the last session of their Iceland Summit looking crestfallen. "I don't know what else I could have done," the Soviet leader said as they parted. Replied Reagan: "You could have said yes." During the two-day "preparatory summit" Reagan and Gorbachev nearly achieved a historic breakthrough on arms control, with heavy cuts in strategic nuclear forces and the elimination of medium-range missles in Europe. For one incredible moment, the leaders even contemplated the abolition of all nuclear weapons. But then the summit broke down as Reagan rejected an all-or-nothing Soviet proposal that included strict limitations on his Strategic Defense Initiative, the anti-missile program known as Star Wars. With arms control dead in the water, at least temporarily, Reagan and Gorbachev could not even agree on a date for a full fledged summit. On January 20, Martin Luther King Day was celebrated nationwide for the first time as the only holiday that honors a black. The flying object was pretty hard to identify (and pronounce — it rhymes with Sally). In April, after coming within 39 million miles of Earth, its closest pass, the traveler continued toward Neptune. The next such intragalatic incident will be in 2061. In a year of turmoil, explosions often had a far more deadly significance. Terrorists attacks continued to lacerate Europe and the Middle East. A space shuttle was lost and a nuclear reactor blew up. Meanwhile people fought back against some old enemies. A war on drugs was declared. Millions joined hands across America to combat hunger, while hundreds marched coast to coast to protest nuclear weapons. There were bright spots, too: memorable weddings, an unforgettable World Series and a once-in-a-life-time visit from Halley's Comet.

Accused Soviet spy Zacharoff doesn't seem too worried about upcoming events.

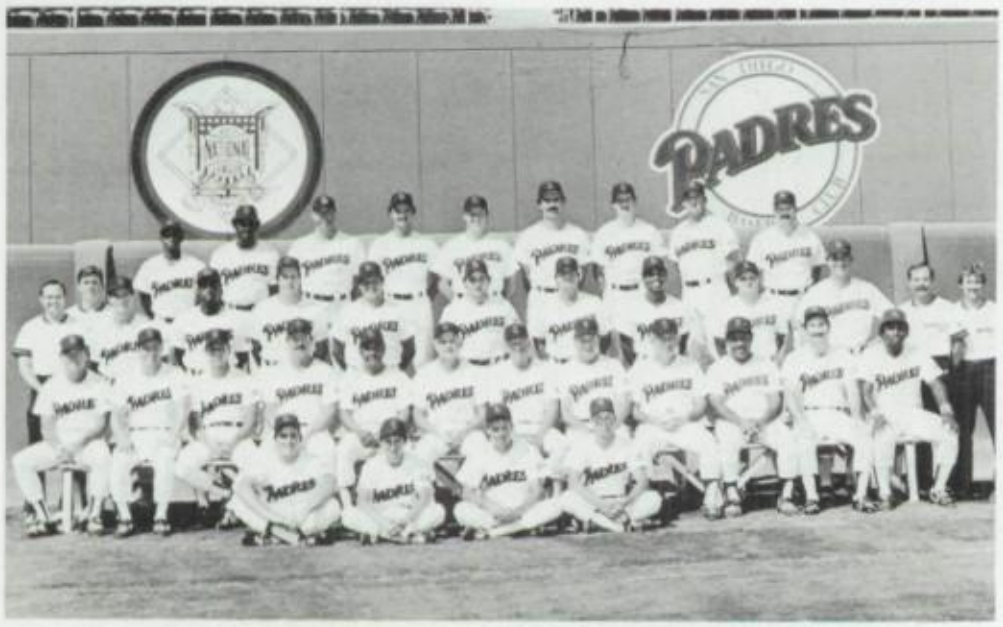
Australia's view of the Stars And Stipes in all four races.

What goes down must come up ... and it did!



Let yourself go!

The thrill of victory overcomes Dennis Conner.

San Diego, America's Finest City, revealed to natives that it definitely graduated into the "big city" category. Dennis Conner brought back the America's Cup, beating Australia in four straight wins in the best of seven series. The Star of India set out to sea for the third time from its berth in San Diego harbor. Put up for sale, the Padres struggled through a tough season. In support of the anti-drug abuse crusade, the management banned beer from the post-game locker room. Eliminating B.Y.U., the S.D.S.U. Aztecs attained the W.A.C. (WESTERN ATHLETIC CONFERENCE) championship title and went on to win the Holiday Bowl for the first time. After former mayor Roger Hedgecock resigned to become a radio talk show host, San Diegans elected Maureen O'Connor the mayor of San Diego. Pacific Beach celebrated its 100th anniversary with events including historic walking tours through old houses, taste of P.B. tours of 9 restaurants, the Miss Pacific Beach pageant, and an exciting parade. As host to tourists and new home to the America's Cup, San Diego abounded with sun, fun and adventure.

First female mayor, Maureen O'Conner assumes command.

BEST ACTOR
Tom Cruise

Talk about Cruise control. Young Tom has the movies by the box office these days, after starring in two of the biggest films of the summer (Top Gun) and fall (The Color of Money). He isn't totally infallible: Legend surely appalled all but his immediate family. Still, he's giddily versatile, skidding from the clenched-jaw macho of Top Gun to the bouffant flake of Money. He's always intense, often a hot dog, but his toothy smile hints at a sweet, vulnerable side. As he said in Top Gun,

Fashion Speaks....

At The Club

GUESS has the look that everybody wants.

Ask a thousand people to describe their style, and you'll find a thousand different answers. Some people dress casually, others according to the moods that they go through. Some enjoy looking offbeat; not mainstream. From our hair to our shoes, we all dress to impress. After all, fashion does speak louder than words. The latest craze: BOOTS. All kinds of wild boots with tassels and colors to match. Tennis shoes mean fashion in a major way: Reebok, Adidas, Fila, Nike, Converse and the list goes on. Accessories made a major statement in the form of purses. They grew in size and color and surfaced as the "in" thing. We have always flirted with jewelry, but now it has become a major romance. We love to adorn ourselves in lots of jewelry: silver, gold and all that is in-between. New jeans, the ever popular Levi, the style that never fades now do fade. In addition, they come in a wide variety of colors which added to their popularity. Let's not forget Guess. We've graduated from the Jordache look. Now Guess has the look that everybody wants. And what about trends? The trends that we've seen for the really cool (or hot) people: Bongo, Esprit, Benetton, IOU, and Forenza. Only time will reveal if these trends can make the grade to big time fashion. Football and fashion?? The two don't seem to mix, right? Not so. Don't be surprised when Starter Jackets pop up everywhere. They're the jackets that display the name of your favorite football team. You don't necessarily have to be a surfer to sport the likes of G&S, Gotcha, Quicksilver and others. Beachwear's everywhere and fun for everyone. Major soft drink companies cashed in on fashion. With the emergence of Coca-Cola clothes, and Pepsi soon followed suit. "This year went back to the classics: classic colors, classic styles, and classic designs. And I really like the classic look! "That's what sophomore Mike Dans had to say about this year's fashion scene. No matter where you are at The Club, you will see a fashion statement or two. Where else does fashion speak but at The Club.

An Evening To Remember...

Hey Hoe!
I know you just love it when I talk to you that way. I'll miss all our little talks about "Big THINGS!" !! Always Keep Smiling & don't ever let anyone get you down - unless it's in a good position! Have a great time in life.

Love Ya.

We Finally Did It !!!

After thirteen long years of mandatory education, we are finally free . . . Free to make our own decisions, free to go at our own pace, Free to spread our wings and fly. It hasn't been easy, nor will it be any easier. Now is the time take what friends, teachers, and our families have given to us over the years and put it to use.

Heather,
Have a great summer. Hope you had a good time in Scott's class with those halftones and color seps. Maybe I'll see you over the summer.

Juniors... Class Of 88

Somewhere in the gap between wide-eyed innocence of Freshmen and Senioritis lies the Junior year, not that Juniors find it uneventful by any means. From taking the PSAT to sweating out essays in Ms. Stell's class to taking "Friendly Get-Togethers" (tests) in Mr. Homiston's class, they have plenty to do. This being the last year before college applications are due, many juniors plan early where they will be going. Many juniors also occupied their time participating in sports, clubs and all of the fine activities Mission Bay has to offer, including selling candles and Buc cups for months. Overall the junior class of '88 has had an excellent year and just wait until next year!

Sophomores... Class Of 89

Jennifer Delroy, President; Louis Hom, Vice President; Robert Fuentes, Secretary; Lisa Griffith, Treasurer.

Many of the students in the sophomore class made history by being the first freshmen to attend Mission Bay. As a result, a majority of them faced fewer problems that arise in adjusting to a typical high school atmosphere: meeting new people, finding lockers, knowing how to find their classes, and encountering a multitude of new teachers.

"It helped us to get the feel of high school as opposed to junior high, and we got to meet more people," remarked Paty Sanchez.

As the first official class to graduate with four years of Mission Bay experience under their belts, the sophomores look forward to 1989.

Heather, Well babe we finally made it through the whole 12 years. Yeah! I just want to say thank-you for being such a good friend! You have always been so sweet to me. You are really care about this summer you will succeed in your future! Love always, Heather (I spell it STEAD the right way! :) )

Wasn't bio fun?!? (THRILLING, HUH?) Oh well, you're free now, and I'm still stuck here in this beachfront prison. I guess maybe I'll see you sometime. Take it easy and have a bitchin' life. Lots! Hom

Heather, You are one of the sweetest & most considerate people I know. Good luck in life you deserve it. I miss you, Love, Candace Casutt

Freshmen... Class Of 90

One of the hardest things about growing up is high school. There are many different things here than Junior High: big football games, big football players, big dances, big buses, big lunch lines, big food prices, big classes, big tests, big girls and big boys add pressure to what had been a dull life previously. The class of '90 has the unique honor of being the second freshman class in our school's history, and don't think they don't appreciate it. Just ask Coty Stunby, "High school is much better than junior high because it is easier and more fun." Overall, most freshmen seemed to think the same way and welcomed the chance to be big people in high school.

FBLA: No Monkey Business

The President, Kenneth Hawkins, begins the meeting.

Future Business Leaders of America began its fifth consecutive year with an officer's conference in Anaheim. They then continued '86-'87 with two trips to Knott's Berry Farm for the southern section's conference and competition.

As the year progressed, F.B.L.A. attended a social event at the Family Fun Center. In addition, they had weekly meetings to discuss upcoming issues that were led by the President of the club: Kenneth Hawkins.

The group wrapped up the year with a state competition in Fresno and the National competition in Washington D.C. The close of '86-'87 left the members "better prepared for their future in the competitive business world," Nick Nirschl commented.

The members of F.B.L.A. discuss their fundraiser.

Heather,
You are really a sweet person and I am glad we are friends. I wish you the best of luck in the future and you better keep in touch: 270-6819. We sure had alot of good times together last year & I hope we have plenty more! Love Karen Scheneker

The Officers!

F.B.L.A. smiles at a job well done

F.B.L.A. consists of Susan Tuey (treasurer), Martha Gomez, Tami Musser (Vice President), Roberto Fuentes, Vickey De La Fuente, Miriam Torres, John Addleman, Ian Wood, Carey Dill (historian), Kari Randall, Gilbert Cienfuegos (secretary), Kristin Bailey, Margie Martinez, Kim Musser, Kristen Sullivan, Michelle Leon, Sarah Coutts, Norma Michel, Maribel Salas, Michael Fielden, Gennett Mills, Norma Quiroz, Jennifer Cipielewski, Nick Nirschl, Tammy Williams, Kenneth Hawkins (President), and Enrique Rodriguez.

D.E.C.A. ... Stepping Stones To The Future

DECA (Distributive Education Clubs of America) is for students who are enrolled in any of Mission Bay's marketing classes. This year they have 102 members. It's a professional organization that helps students prepare for future careers in either marketing, merchandising, or management. This year they competed at the city, district, state, and national career development conferences, bringing home many trophies and honors. This involved studying, traveling, and meeting new people from all over. They held fundraisers — selling sweatshirts, cookies, etc. and also took part in several community projects. M.B's chapter president Sue Burden, who also serves as the southern district president, and the state vice-president quoted, "Even though it has been a lot of hard work and studying, we never forgot to have fun."

Attending the awards dinner, Mrs. McKenney, and Mike Fielden savor the atmosphere.

Aboard the Queen Mary, Sue Burden plans her successful campaign for V. President.

The Student Store class, what a crew!!

Mrs. McKenney busies herself working, as usual.

In the 1986-1987 school year, the Mission Bay Student Store experienced some exciting and productive changes. The Store, operated by Mrs. Pam McKenney, Mr. Andy Mikkelson, and the entire Marketing 3-4 class (5th period), is located in the marketing building, near the senior locker halls. This year's staff focused on making the Student Store a practical, convenient place for students to satisfy all their school needs. The Student Store has a wide selection of snack products, such as candy bars, homebaked-style cookies, popcorn, and health snacks. The school supply department is designed to provide for a student's every supply need, while the assortment of sport clothing is intended to promote school spirit, and offer students the new mandatory P.E. uniforms and other exercise clothing at reasonable prices. With a lot of hard work, and a class full of ambitious students, the Mission Bay Student Store had its best year yet!

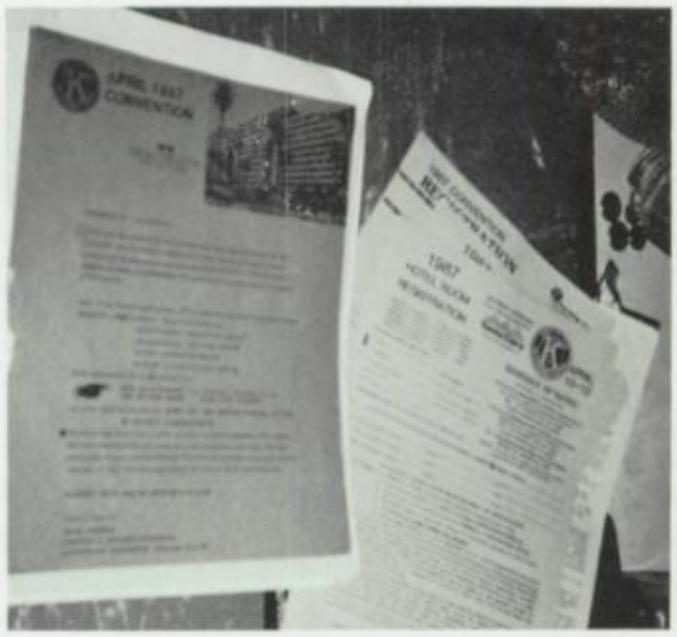
Putting her two cents in is De'borah Robledo

Knowing that this tropical resort would confuse new tourists, Key Club members served as guides during orientation. Key Club originated 62 years ago as a service organization whose members help their schools and communities. The October Apple Drive was the biggest activity of the year. Students stumbled out of bed at 5:00 in the morning to meet with the Kiwanians and have breakfast. After their hearty meal, the students sprinted to the Little League field to unload a semi-truck full of cases of apples that would eventually find their way across San Diego County all day long. The end of the day for most of these workers came around 3:00.

The Spaghetti Dinner at Pernicano's Pizza House demonstrated Key Clubbers participation in yet another community project. Students became waiters for the hungry public that devoured their feasts with enthusiasm. Afterwards, the group vigorously worked to clean the dishes that were left.

For the second time, Mission Bay Key Club showed great leadership by having a Lt. Gov. at our school. De'borah Robledo, a great leader, gathering over 900 service hours and exemplified the Key Club spirit.



Excitement increases as convention grows near.

The California Scholarship Federation, CSF, honored students at Mission Bay who dedicated themselves to academic excellence. In order to achieve membership, students earned ten or more points on their semester report card, based on a point scale in which an "A" equals three points and a "B" equals one point. Students who qualified for four out of the six high school semesters obtained a life membership to CSF and a special seal to affix to the students' high school diploma. Mr. Maquet and CSF members raised money to grant scholarships to outstanding students at Mission Bay.

"Let me off," utters Kevin (Psycho) OConnel.

Perfect form for a backscratcher, too bad Carol Podney wasn't in the air.

This year the main event sponsored by Interact led members to the wintery wonderland of South Lake Tahoe. The ski trip turned out excellently as usual with a few minor complications which were easily worked out. Two of the four days brought skiers crystal clear skies which made everybody feel at home. The sparkling fresh snow didn't last long with Interact skiers in the neighborhood. Community projects were limited this year even though members anxiously awaited them. This year's officers, Melissa Howell and Ed Tuey, led the Interact Club to another successful year at Mission Bay's tropical paradise. (All ski pictures taken by Randy and Mike.)

Stop The Presses!

The 1986-87 Beachomber staff had a good blend of new and returning reporters who met new challenges. The returning staff had to get used to typesetting and printing the paper on campus, on computer. The new reporters had to get used to Mr. Kerr's dazzling array of beat reports, rough copies, final copies, and outlines. This year the editors, Scott Taylor and Candace Casutt, were repeating from last year. Their assistants included, among others, Loretta Lavell, Beth Applegate, Jeff Shelby, Stacy Whalen, Anthony Lagioia and Kevin Ryan. The new format became a hit with students and combined with regular articles like "Names In The News", "Random Shots" and "White's World of Sports", the paper returned to its award winning form of old.

While proofreading an article, Loretta Lavell tries to ignore Jeff Shelby's attempt to look cute.

FASHION club...Coca-Cola Style

India comes alive on Zoe Crenshaw.

A new edition, the Coca-Cola Fashion Club, composed of the students in Mrs. McKenney's third period marketing class, emphasized modeling techniques. The students learned correct etiquette such as how to sit and walk properly. "The class is not your average class. It teaches the students little things that you normally don't think too much about," junior Teresa Mills stated. On January 17th, the class presented the production, Wheel of Fashion. Contestants won different fashion trips and then models displayed the fashions for their trip. The activities enhanced the potential models' opportunities for future success with its appealing impression.

German Club

Madam Shed, A. Franke, T. Goad, A. Catron, J. Fuchrer, and G. Salos are all German Club enthusiasts.

The five members in the German Club didn't let their small number keep their enthusiasm at a minimum for their love of the German language. Their year, filled with fund-raisers and films, made the clan more aware of the German culture. Mrs. Shed, advisor, summed up the year with this remark, "The kids got a chance to sharpen their German accents while learning of the German lifestyles."

French Club

French Bread Pizza and fries, not only did you have to long for Paris ... you had to speak French. Consisting of 11 members and led by Mr. Horton, advisor and Adolfo Lopez, the members engaged in speech competitions amongst themselves. During their meetings they often watched films on the customs and lifestyles in France. Learning to appreciate French culture and cuisine while acquiring fluency in the language served as the focus for this diverse group.

K. Butler, M. Ager, C. Morrison, A. Lopez, A. Bristol, L. Lopez, D. Robledo, R. McCarthy, L. McCoy, J. Dery, R. Avezedo, are all enthusiasts for the French language.

M.E.Ch.A. ... Making The Changes

M.E.CH.A., Movimiento Estudiantil Chicano de Aztlan, translated as Chicano Student Movement of Aztlan organized as a club last year and has grown to over 40 members. The group attended the annual career orientation conference at SDSU. M.E.CH.A. also organized a field trip to Cuyamaca. The members enjoyed themselves very much. In December the group collected clothes and toys which made many needy orphans in Tijuana, B.C., very happy. The group also sold chicken tostadas at the food bazaar Feb. 20, and successfully sold everything. The advisor, Mr. Reyes, helped the group to keep aiming for its goals, personal success for all. Norma Quiroz feels that M.E.CH.A. "... encourages you to keep striving for your goal in life." The group has a saying they hope no one forgets: "Power is found in Education."

ASB President David Geiger.

Activities and entertainment at Club M.B., provided by the active A.S.B., included spirit weeks, brotherhood week, air band competition, and dances. Under the leadership of David Geiger, the A.S.B. cabinet helped provide a very entertaining atmosphere. Michelle Linville, Commissioner of Activities, put lots of work into planning the lunchtime fun and games while Tamrin Starr planned dances. Rick Mersereau, A.S.B. Vice-President, kept the visitors at the club well-informed of special events through home room representative meetings, and Kyle Noderer, Commissioner of Finance, handled the money efficiently. The efforts of all the dedicated officials made Club M.B. an exciting resort.

Brain Storming Bucs

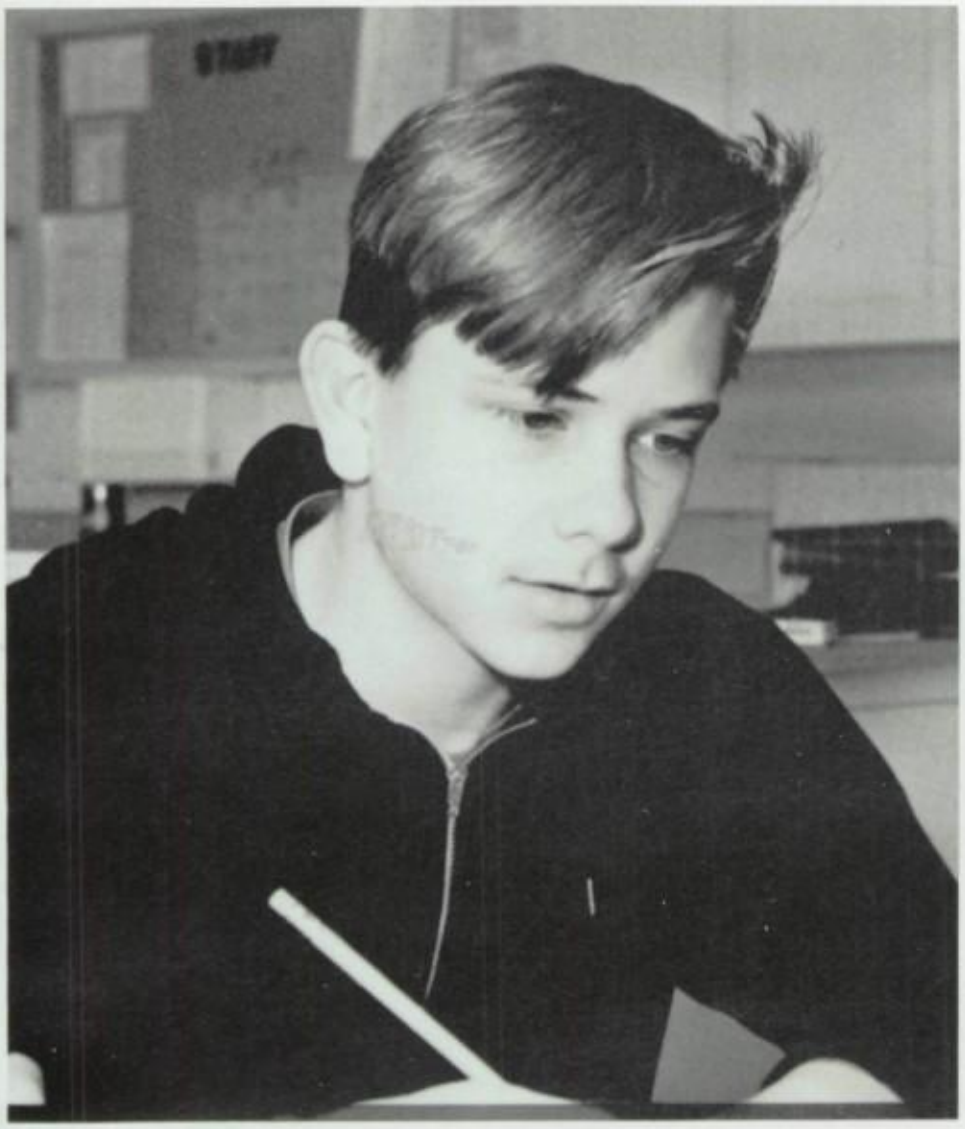
It was 7:00 a.m Thursday, March, 1987. Most of us had barely crawled out of bed, but at least 10 people were already in room 263 and were being fired at with questions. After Christmas vacation, this was the daily routine for the members of the Academic League and Decathlon. Competitions began in March, giving both the Varsity and Junior Varsity teams two months to practice. Their coach, Mr. Bray, liked to "work with both ends of the spectrum," as he put it. He taught both the TMR classes and the Academic League, and delighted in his work. Each of the members had a special subject. Ross Shekleton had social studies; Ed Barret and Matteo McCarthy were the wiz-kids of math; Louis Hom excelled in the sciences; and Lillian Lee specialized in the fine arts and literature. They worked hard and were terrific at what they did.

The league works out.

Varsity: Dana Steinwehe, Janine Gottlieb, Kyle Noderer, Peter Martacchio, Matteo McCarthy, Mr. Bray, Ross Shekelton, Mary Spencer, and Robert Neill.

Owen and Louis converse.

Mr. Bray quizzes the team.



Chad Hurwitz thinks it over.

Academic Decathlon: Ms. Stell, Rick Mersereau, Kyle Noderer, Dana Steinwehe, Mary Spencer, Ross Shekelton, Janine Gottlibe, Mr. Bray.

"Are you serious?"

JV Team: Ed Hardman, Juan Schoonover, Tom Stiska, Chad Hurwitz, Owen Flynn, Mr. Bray, David Ramirez, Edward Barret, and Louis Hom.

Celebrating Success ....

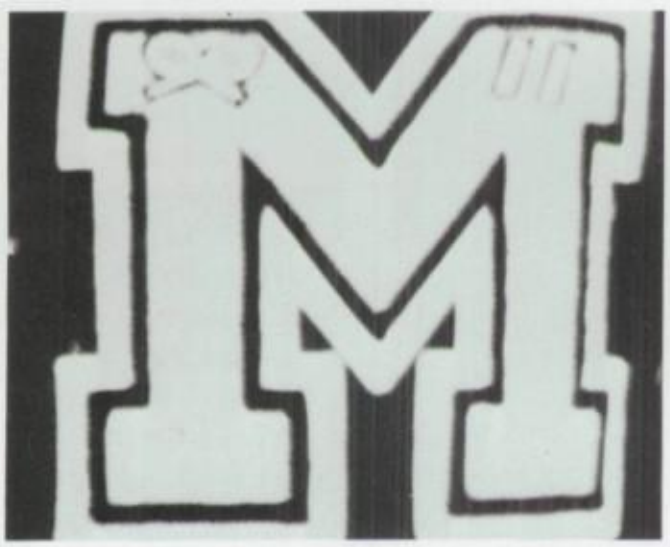
Advisor Coach Cann

The elements that make up the Letterman's Club.

I'm so cool, snickers Jeff Nicks.



Pride and Joy of a Letterman

The all boys' club with its members lettering in at least one sport, the lettermen enjoyed a year full of voluntary work and discussion of community service efforts. Advisor Coach Cann kept the boys' gym full of thirst-quenching soft drinks. Achieving Varsity letters and demonstrating good citizenship guaranteed membership in the club. The members took pride in all services rendered. They worked in the public eye in helping to restore many parts of the town's natural beauty. The lettermen had a successful year while they helped society.

For the first time, surfers effectively organized themselves into a competitive club. Under the guidance of advisor and surf fan Coach Weiss, board, body and boogie board surfers met to reminisce about great waves, watch videos and plan strategies for competitions. Of course, topmost in the minds of avid surf nuts was waiting for a chance to hit the beach. The club traveled to the north county as well as local sports in quest of the ultimate wave. The top three surfers, #1 Danti Petrucci, #2 John Jacobs and #3 Mike Whalen promoted the club's motto: "Let's go surfing!"

Hawaii 87!

This year, for the third time, the Mission Bay Jazz Ensemble left for Hawaii on a happy note. They stayed for a week doing two successful performances, one on Kauai, and one in Waikiki. Led by Mr. Vinole, the Jazz Band upheld its reputation this year by representing the state of California at the "America's Finest City" Festival and taking first place. They also took first place in the "Fiesta de la Primavera" festival in Old Town. The band gave a special performance at the International Hotel. The Jazz Band receives an average of 50 invitations every year to perform all over the United States. They have received an invitation to play at Disney World in Florida next year. For the third consecutive year, Gary Nimtz performed as a member of the California State Honor band. As Mr. Vinole puffed, "The award winning Jazz Band has a national reputation of which, as a director, I am very proud."

That's Show Biz....

Full of joy, Kellie and Marti rehearse "Some day my prince will come."

Mission Bay's Show Choir topped themselves this year with a stunning array of dancing and singing. The Show Choir consisted of members with a common bond: the thrill in performing in front of an audience. As directed by Mr. Vinole, Camille Sallave (choreographer), and Jill Coleman (director) the group spent the year auditioning for parts and perfecting their song and dance routines. The year ended with a climactic performance of "That's Show Biz!" in front of students, family, and friends.

Tom Kelley and Mr. Vinole take 10.

In Perfect Harmony

"Hands up for Le Jazz Hot!"

Appreciation for music drew members to Mr. Vinole's award winning Jazz Swing Choir. The combined talents of many aspiring singers made this year's Swing Choir a voice to be heard. Directed by Mr. Vinole, the choir put in daily practice to perfect their sound. The Swing Choir took a trip to Hawaii during spring break for singing competitions and fun in the sun. They raised money for the trip with candy sales, dance-a-thons, and a Mexican fiesta dinner. The Swing Choir sang at many performances for different organizations. The Swing Choir members developed bonds of friendship and an even greater respect for music before the year's end.

Harmonizing to "Dixieland Jamboree," the choir swings.

Aspiring soprano, Camille Sallave, solos "Tuxedo Junction."

Poised at the controls, Mr. Vinole takes charge.

S.A.D.D. members concerned themselves with saving lives by encouraging students not to drink and drive. One of the main highlights of their year, S.A.D.D. Awareness Week, did much to make students aware of the perils of driving while drunk through films and guest speakers. Ms. Polanco, advisor, and Robert Marks led the 22 member troupe. Ms. Polanco had this comment to make, "It is nice to be involved! It is nice to help to save lives!"

The Hanalei Hotel
8:00 p.m. to midnight

The Bucs demonstrated that there is an exciting life outside of Club M.B. They proved the best place to be is among Club members. The ASB Ball on Jan. 17 began promptly at 8:00 and lasted until a little after 12:30. The euphoric evening kicked off with a D.J. from Sound Off. The ballroom at the Hanalei hotel began to shake, rattle, and roll but that was only the beginning. The joy filled atmosphere provided fun and excitement for all. For some it may have been a first, and for some a last, but to all who attended, it was undoubtedly a special occasion.

Let's Go To The Hoop

At the Basketball Homecoming game, the Bucs dribbled their way to a victory by beating the Uni Dons. During half time, the cheering fans watched with awe and anticipation to see who would be crowned the Homecoming King. Chuck Patton, an alumnus from Mission Bay, presented the court. The Homecoming court strolled down the red carpet to the half-court line to acknowledge David Geiger as this year's Homecoming King. This year's football Homecoming Queen, Laura De los Santos presented the King's crown. As the game continued, the J.V. and Varsity Cheerleaders kept the Buc fans' spirits high. The dance took place in our gym, February 6 from 10:00 to 12:30 a.m. "Even though the dance was short, it was still lots of fun," panted Jimmy Thomas after the dance. Many people had a good time dancing to familiar songs such as "Twist and Shout" and "Paul Revere." As a result of the dance being so late, a few people became exhausted and tired, especially after the lively Varsity Basketball game, but they used their last bit of adrenalin and excitement to make it to the end.

The Court awaits anxiously to discover the new Homecoming King.

The inspiring and enthusiastic J.V. Cheerleaders commenced the season by attending N.S.A. (National Spirit Ambassadors) Camp last summer followed by regular workouts. Their dedication and hard work produced a skilled precision team and brought invitations to perform at such events as the P.B. Christmas parade. They also attended the National Cheerleading Championships at Sea World. The community greatly appreciated and noted their enthusiastic support of Mission Bay athletics by putting their picture in the Star News for participating in the P.B. Parade and by being on P.M. Magazine for cheering at summer camp. Together the J.V. team also completed many activities like the car wash at the Mobil station on the corner of Ingraham and Grand. Two nights before Christmas, half the squad paraded up and down Garnet singing Christmas carols at places such as "Safeway, Vons, and the Wherehouse." "Filippi's Pizza Grotto" showed their appreciation by serving free drinks and "Diego's" did so by just letting them in. As J.V. Captain, Jacqui Marquand lilted, "We had a great team effort and a lot of fun ... the girls worked really hard ... a special thanks to Moms Hill and Spurbick and their Buc Mobiles."

The Changing Of Seasons

This year's Fall Rally was incredible. We were entertained by the cheerleader's well improved dance routine. The students from various fall sports enjoyed a take-off-your-shoes-and-find-them-blind- folded-game. Students such as Marie Robinson and others received an athlete of the month T-shirt. "Over all, the rally was enjoyed by all who attended," commented Honora Maier.

Setting up, Sean Rees looks for a receiver.

The 1986 varsity football team had the talent but lacked a little in the dedication department, not to mention the once again hampering injuries the team suffered. Three year letterman Ernest Johnson went down with a broken arm midway through the season; while Charles Frey went down with a broken neck. Even with this the Bucs had an exciting year and finished 3-7 overall, and a respectable 2-3 in league. Ernest Johnson (chosen to second team all league defense), quotes, "We played some good games, but didn't seem to have what it took all the time.

Almost Paradise

This year's team included mostly young, inexperienced players. When the season started, the team's spirit soared even though they lost the first few games. Then they won a game, and this trend continued until they were 2-3 in the league. The team stuck together through victory and loss, and the sophomores gave the newcomers a lot of encouragement. The outstanding players gave terrific support to the game and the team. The team really appreciated Coach Cann's leadership. Jason Cordero and Peter Wilson commented, "He really pushes discipline, but he's really just another guy who loves football."

Endurance Is The Word

This year, for the first time in twelve years, we had our own cross country course that wound through our tropical paradise. The tourists and tour guides could now watch their cross country runners without having to travel all the way to Morely Field. This upped the attendance by 300 percent.

This year the boys' team won one meet against Clairemont, and the girls' team won several. Although plagued with many injuries such as Cecilia Mathewson, the top girls' runner at the beginning of the year out with an ankle injury, the team overcame these handicaps and strove to become a better team because of this.

Coach Ungricht presented the most deserving awards to the best runners. Tom Stiska and Cecilia Mathewson received the Gutsy awards for the boys' and girls' teams. Heather Pasich and David Hampson got the awards for the most inspirational runners. Coach gave the MVP awards to Matteo McCarthy and Maria Robinson. David Gilbert came one man away from going to the all league meet and got his personal record 17:27 for the five kilometers. "I didn't make it this year," said Dave, "but I'll be there next year." The top five girls made all league. Coach Ungricht gave out these awards after long tear jerking speeches during the team party at the end of a grueling but gratifying season.

A Smashing Year For Girls

Number one singles player, Stacey Whalen,

Top doubles players, Heather Stearns and Heather Keaffaber, demonstrate their championship forms.

Many afternoons in our sunny paradise passed pleasantly for this year's girls' tennis team. The team consisted of a few returning veterans and many talented newcomers. Number one girl's singles player, Stacey Whalen, led the team with her powerful playing and cheerful enthusiasm. Heather Stearns and Heather Keaffaber, named number one doubles team, made it to the CIF quarter finals. The team's long, intense practices paid off with many wins. Stacey Whalen commented, "The season was very hard and tiring, but I'm sorry it's over." The players gained new friends and tennis skills in a successful season.

Varsity volleyball team had a tough year. Their league consisted of La Jolla, winning CIF the two previous years; Uni, winning CIF this year; and UC, an up and coming young team. The team record stood at 3-7, beating Clairemont once and Kearny twice. Two exceptional athletes, Camille Sallave and Kori Rucker, made second team all-league, a great accomplishment since the league only named six players. Kori Rucker said, "I had a great year." The team itself wound up with MVP Camille Sallave, most improved Wendy Riggs, and most inspirational Nicole Lefevre. Next year the team hopes to be even better, thanks to the help of Coaches Bob Gallaher and Dave Whittaker.

Junior Varsity had a great year thanks to their coach, Dave Whittaker. Kim Dugan said, "Dave was a great coach. He didn't care if we didn't win; he just stressed that we as individuals improved. I think next year we are going to have a great team." The team consisted of four juniors, five sophomores, and eight freshmen. MVP Andrea Barton, most improved Brooke Chandler, and most spirited Deloris Sandoval led the team to their 2-8 record. Throughout the season the team gained new skills and an appreciation for teamwork.

The Hookers Are Hot

The field hockey team had a hot season this year, finishing with a much improved 6-4 league record. Reflecting on the team's encouraging season, Coach Malley commented that the girls " . . . worked together more as a team . . ." Combining their experience and skill, the returning players got the team on the winning track. Joslyn Parenti and Jane Truman acted as co-captains for the Hookers. Parenti's teammates also voted her the Most Valuable Player. Chelsea Smith, a sophomore, stood out as the team's leading scorer. The team showed most improvement in their stickwork, the foundation for a winning hockey team. Help with basic fundamentals came from Coach Malley's volunteer assistant, Mike Hill. An avid field hockey player himself, Mike's experience, strategy, and coaching contributed to the team's success. When asked about the team's future, Coach Malley replied, "It's a much improved team, and I think they'll continue to improve because they're a young team."

To control the ball, Tiffany Wasilewski backs up to adjust her strategy.

Surrounded by Cougars, Jane Truman desperately seeks another Buc.

It's A Cold Season, But Buc Spirit Warms The Air

Everyone, entertained by our outstanding cheerleaders and by MB's own airband, Run DMC, enjoyed the winter rally. The sports presented included girls' and boys' basketball and soccer and the wrestling team. Hayley Coburn and Jeff Holmer won the athlete of the month T-shirts. 800 rowdy Buccaneers attended this year's winter rally. One of those 800 Bucs, Marilyn Gee exclaimed, "I thought it was a really good rally; I enjoyed seeing the airband, Run DMC!" Our Buc winter athletes did very well this season, therefore, making all the Buccaneers proud of them.

Goalden Performances

Girls' Soccer had a fantastic year. Top scorer Lorena Aviles led the team more than once to victory. Her incredible footwork surpassed that of any other forward in Western League. She set a league record for career assists. Kori Rucker controlled the midfield with her aggressiveness, and Jenny Waters held the wall of defense. The highlight of the year came with a win against long-time rival University. Played on enemy territory, the Bucs upset University 4-1. Senior Wendy Talley discussed the game . . . "I can't believe that we did it. We burned them on their field; it serves them right." The finest coach in Western League, Dave Cochrane held the team together, treating it as a complete unit. Stressing aggressiveness helped make the Girls' Soccer team number 1.

Shooting For Their Goals

Dexterous Mark Brown eludes the slide tackle.

The goal for this year's soccer team was to " . . . improve on last year's record and to keep improving until we're #1," as Coach Reyes put it. The team consisted of many inexperienced freshmen and sophomores as well as some impressive seniors. This diversity gave them a solid base to work from while permitting many opportunities for improvement.

Hot players — Center Halfback Greg Garcia, who expertly handled the ball, and Center Forward, Kraig Jensen, who had a powerful kick — led the team to their near win over Uni, the league champs. Working together, the guys created some exciting games.

Dribbling To A Winning Season

Starting out the season with a 58-27 win over their cross-town rivals, University, the girls' basketball team exploded onto the court. "We have a young ballclub, and I feel we can take the Western League," Coach Willis continuously told his team. Committing themselves to teamwork, the players worked vigorously during their practices to excel over their competitors. "This team should be one that people shouldn't take lightly in the future as well as this year," asserted senior Kelley White. Every one of the five seniors, three juniors, and two sophomores, whether sitting on the bench or starting, contributed her spirit and excitement to every game. The team triumphed through dedication, perseverance, and tenacity.

Hoping for an assist, Kim Dugan passes the ball to an open player.

Never underestimate the power of women, especially women with Buc Power. Trying to reach their season goal record of 14-0, the girls worked hard and improved their ability to play. According to Dolores Sandoval #12, the "skills and defense have improved a lot" therefore making the girls a good, strong team.

The players felt Coach Cann contributed much to the team and taught them more about the game itself. He improved and refined their techniques. He thought up new plays and showed the girls how to come through. Their skills in their plays also improved greatly. The girls felt they worked more as a team and organized themselves better.

Overall, these powerful Buc women had a fantastic season and a lot of fun while making it happen.

"Time out," signals Jennifer Delroy.

Buc Women huddle for a talk with Coach Cann.

On The Rebound

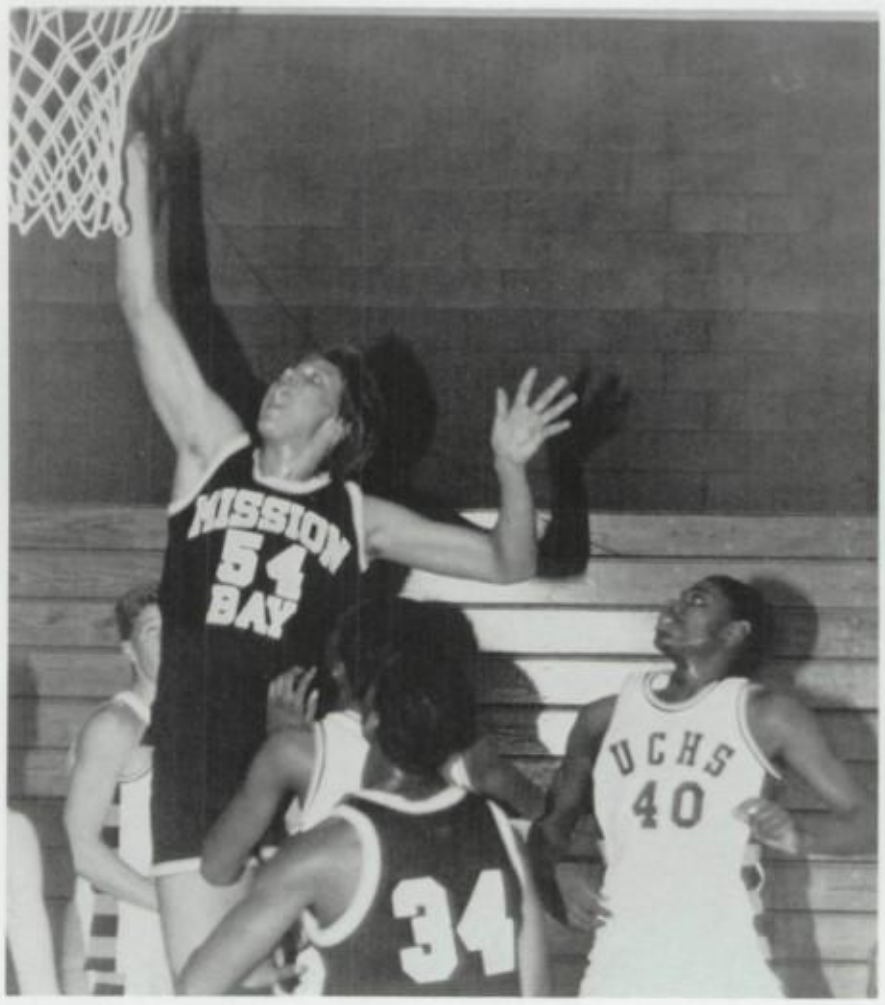
Hoping the season would bring the return of championship CIF playoffs, the boys paraded into the Escondido High gym to win the game 48-42. Inexperience and the development of team chemistry turned out to be deciding factors in some of the close games. One of the experienced players, Ernest Johnson, would be a team leader throughout the season. Realizing that the Western League title seemed to be up for grabs, the team had to work continuously on their offense, while their defense remained one of the toughest in San Diego county. "We work well as a team on defense," explained senior Bob Umber. Success is measured in many ways. It can be measured by the effort put forth, the improvement, dedication, and sacrifices made by all eleven players. "Successful . . . ", a word Coach Seaman used to describe his team's season.



Up and over, Bob Umber shoots for two.

The boys' J.V. basketball team had an outstanding year. They finished 3-0 in the La Jolla J.V. Christmas tournament, beating Christian, Hoover, and Serra. They also upset 3A-power Mira Mesa during the pre-season.

Keith Berkley, who proved to be the leading scorer, led this year's team. "Keith will be a big asset to the Varsity team during the next 2 years," said Coach Robert Harutunian. Mike Jasper and team captain Jeff Shelby contributed greatly to the success of the '86-'87 season. Danny Johns and sophomore Ken North also started for the Bucs.

Coach Harutunian emphasized, "We have an excellent group of sophomores and juniors on the Varsity and J.V. teams and we have a great opportunity of reaching the playoffs . . . "

Burning up the court with the enthusiasm and endurance, the J.V. team made Mission Bay proud.

Pinning Down The Competition

The team's outstanding performance made this year a milestone in Mission Bay's wrestling history. The most contributing members of the team — Francois Portee, 15-5; Manny Martinez, 18-7; Temo Cabello, 12-9; Phil Appleton, 17-7; Tony Crisci, 14-5; Jeff Holmer, 18-3; Dan Drage, 22-5; and Howard Barton, 14-7; helped the team win almost every match. In their weight classes, Manny, Phil, Dan, and Howard received 1st place in Western League, while Temo, Francois, and Jeff placed 2nd and Tony placed 3rd. The team as a whole placed 2nd in Western League. The eight outstanding players benefited from the strict rule of Coach Surdy who required a workout of two to three hours a day. Team captain Dan Drage and exemplary wrestler Manny Martinez assured, "We're the best!" The reason was clear; the team gave its members support and all tried their best. In a burst of optimism, Coach Surdy stated, "We're on the rise again. Thanks to a great effort by the team, through dedication and hard work, and the best pair of assistant coaches I've ever had, Vic Welch and Damon Watson, the Bucs earned numerous honors during the '86-'87 season. Look for even better things to come." The wonderful results of our wrestling team made everyone proud!

A "Match" For The Best

Oof! This and other sounds reverberated through the wrestling room every day for three hours during the wrestling season. The sounds came from a group of dedicated young men who spent each afternoon tying each other into knots. All of them had less than one year of experience, and improved the farther they went into the season. Spirited as usual, Coach Surdy called the team "something to look forward to in next year's Varsity wrestling team." Leading the team with the best records, Max Gerson, Mark Thomas and Ramiro Godinez gave their full support to the new team. Although finishing with a record of 1-6, the struggling J.V. wrestlers showed their pride and put up a fight to be proud of.

Waiting for the whistle, Max and Marco stay tense.

Outstanding Spikers

Going all the way, Mark Brown makes the point with a spike.

The spirit behind the team — Dave Whittaker.

Yeah!!!" Shouts of joy ran through the team as they won the game by an excellent spike over the net. This scene occurred every time the boys' volleyball team met for practice in our gym. "The team surpassed last year's because of the spirit of all the new players as well as a terrific new assistant coach, Dave Whittaker," explained Coach Gallaher. The incredibly talented boys' team made it to the county tournaments and to the San Diego City Schools Club League. The outstanding people of the team, Mike Clark — captain; Mark Brown — middle blocker; Brian Roberts, and Curtis Richardson gave their all to the cause and it showed in the results of the games they played and the improvements they made in their skills.

Birdie Abuse

All stretched out, Suni Allen strikes the shuttlecock.

"We take the games seriously, but we have loads of fun in the process," laughed Margot Maddalena, one of 14 new players. The 13 returning veterans influenced their teammates through examples and encouragement to compete strongly against foes such as Crawford and Hoover.

David Wolicki and Tami Musser, the strongest male and female players, led the team to some glorious victories. Suni Allen and Sara Newell played in the female doubles while Gary Nimitz, David Wolicki, Geoffrey Howell and William Grettenberger excelled in the male doubles. Geoffrey Howell and Suni Allen also took part in the mixed doubles. Coach Malley strove to reach their goal of beating last year's record. Many people joined badminton to get involved and experience the feeling of being on an athletic team. Every Tuesday and Thursday brought on excitement for the badminton Bucs as they abused their birdies to victory.

Speed Swimmers

This year's boys' swim team, captained by Kevin O'Connell, proved to be a strong one. It produced three C.I.F. hopefuls: Sean Cullen (100 yard backstroke and 200 I.M.), Dustin Anselm (100 yard breaststroke), and Lonnie Stephens (50 yard freestyle).

The swimmers owed much of their success to the coaching of Robbie Klinefelter and their manager, Mary Berger. They gave the team spirit as they worked out Monday-Friday at the Clairemont pool from 2:15-5:00 p.m. The events that the boys practiced included the 50, 100, 200 and 500 yard freestyle, the freestyle relay, the 200 yard medley relay, 200 I.M., 100 yard backstroke and 100 yard breaststroke. Lonnie Stephens, a senior on the team, remarked that, "This year's team was strong and will become stronger in the future."

Wet And Wild

A cool afternoon and a long warmup served to spark energy into the girl's swim team. Every week the girls practiced at least seven hours to improve their strokes and times. The girls had a hard time because they were such a young squad, but they made much progress through the course of the season. Mrs. Wild, nine-year veteran coach, encouraged her swimmers to always do their best whether they won or lost. Debbie Veborg joined the team because she "liked the people, enjoyed swimming, liked the excitement of the meets with other schools." Top swimmers included Stacey Whalen and Wendy Riggs in the freestyle while Cecilia Matthewson and Tara "Betty" Cullen excelled in the individual medley. Many of the swimmers participated in more than one event. "Everyone on the team supports each other no matter what we place in a meet," emphasized Shawn Murphy, long distance freestyler. Togetherness, determination and pride in accomplishment helped the team sink their opponents.

With the return of 11 of the 13 varsity players, the season appeared in the bag. Losing some early games to schools such as Southwest and Castle Park dampened the spirits of some players, but they came back to beat Pt. Loma 2-1. All of the defeats were close games with one game enduring over 12 innings. One of the stronger players, Lorena Aviles, who showed her talent over her past two years, persevered through the first part of the season with a sore arm. As a pinch hitter in some games, she still supported the team with her power and enthusiasm. Another strong player, Kori Rucker, delivered her best at any position. Kori's forte, pitching, provided many exciting innings to watch. "I expect Kori to be #1 in the league in pitching," Coach Milton told the team. The girls emphasized ball control, accuracy and hitting to go for the wins.

Trying to distract the pitcher, Lisa Germani leads off the base.

Winning with a new and young softball team comprised of 7 freshmen, 7 sophomores, and 1 junior proved an easy task for Coach Cochrane who made the work seem easy. Displaying the talent on the team, the girls beat Pt. Loma 14-3. By continuously getting on base, Missy Letts set the tone for streaks of hits and runs. She possessed the talent to get on base whenever needed. With only two returning players, the team began the season by utilizing the talent they had and working to develop the other potential leaders. Their desire to win ignited the team to many wins throughout the season.

Bucball At Its Best

The Boys' Varsity Baseball team returned this year to defend the Western League again for the fifth consecutive year. Coach Dennis Pugh, who headed the awesome Bucs, felt that his team could compete with any team in the county, even 3-A schools. This year's team had 5 pitchers, led by Scott Vonderlieth, and Sean Rees, followed by juniors Scott Kuhl, Darren Sesslar, and senior Rick Hurley. Junior Colin Davis covered third base while Tony Enomoto controlled shortstop. Sophomore Brandon Farley guarded second, and Greg Enrique held the outfield. Sophomore Tony Lennan played outfield and first base. Senior Mike McMahon led the outfield and Tony Orlando protected the plate as catcher. Coach Pugh summed up his plans for this year by saying, "We'll probably be a little more aggressive this year and run more than we have in the past."

Underclassmen Sean Darrock and Greg Enrique take the Buc stance to get pointers from their teammates.

Star shortstop, Guillermo Aviles, drives another down the line.

Concentrating hard, Sean Jones, waits for the throw.

Coach Cann summed up the J.V. Baseball team's year perfectly. "This was a rebuilding year, a time to acquire new skills." The players gained the experience of playing on a league team in close competition. Though the team consisted of many young and inexperienced players, several outstanding players emerged. A few of the star players, Tom Lafever, catcher; Pat Bettancourt, third base; Guillermo Aviles, shortstop; and Mike McKesson, infielder, unified the team with their commitment to teamwork. Through long and hard practices, the J.V. players developed their talents and their appreciation of the sport.

The Ultimate Sport

Sporting the largest team in several years, with over one hundred participants, this year's track team did remarkably well. The distance team, led by David Gilbert, Gilbert, had five runners under five minutes in the mile. Our competitors in the field events performed better than ever, especially in the invitationals. In the Tiger relays the girls got several seconds and thirds. All around the team competed extremely well in sprints, middle distance, jumps, and every other aspect. Track practices consisted of a mixture of hard work and talent, both of which contributed to the team's success in the meets. Some of the younger athletes that worked hard in past years started to show their real potential this year. Some athletes like Mark Loyd and Doug Hampson who had never been out for track before ran varsity and were competitive with the top runners on the team.

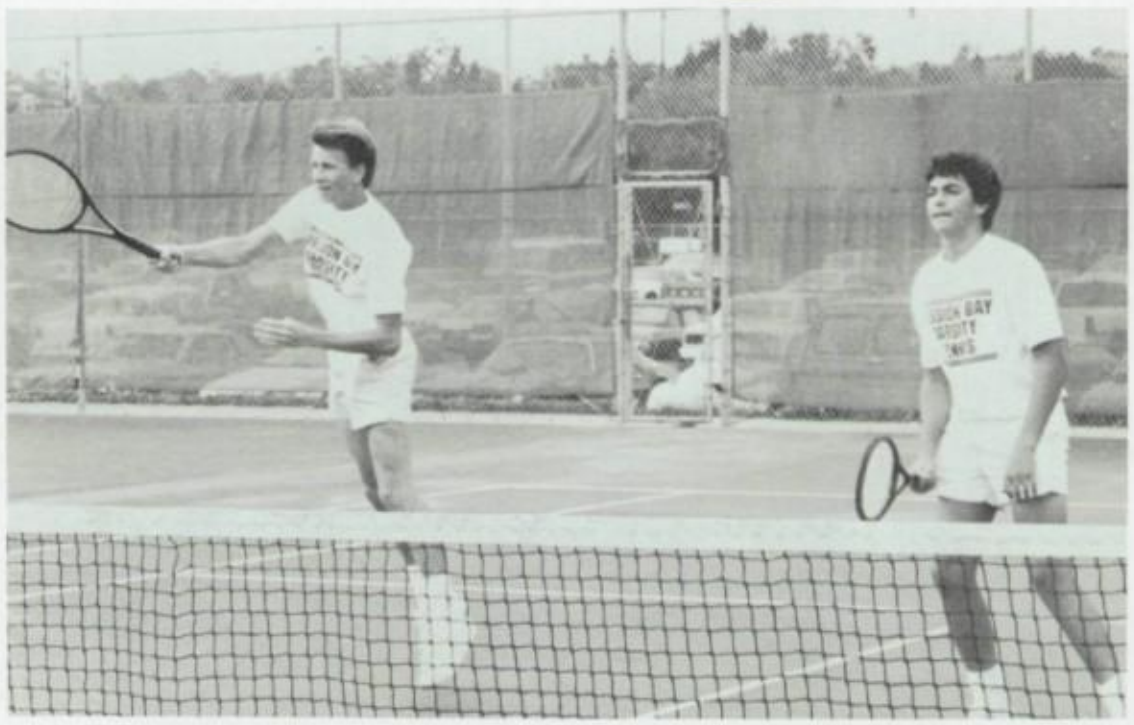
The 1986-87 boys' varsity tennis team, led by Tom Stiska and Mike Linville in singles and Devon Dargell and Daryl Martin in doubles, helped to put the team into the top half of the western league. Composed of 16 underclassmen and three seniors, the seven returning varsity players cemented the team together in this rebuilding year. Struggling through grueling hours of practice and serve, volley and ground stroke drills honed their skills to a fine cutting edge which the team used to conquer its foes. With an upgraded facility, new nets and windscreens, and clad in natty new white uniforms, the team presented an image of pride in response to the fine coaching of Robert Harutunian. As Mike Linville confided, "We are a young team with a lot of potential that will lead to a lot of victories in our league."



Stalwart singles and doubles players, Todd Ryan and Daryl Martin volley at the net.

One of the first things you most likely did upon your arrival at Mission Bay was notice the charismatic smiles that the natives of our resort welcomed you with. You also probably observed that the chief of the tribe, Principal Bal Urrea and vice principals, Mr. Patton and Ms. Adler met you with the same kind of tropical cheerfulness that seems to be common among these island inhabitants. These native leaders did their best to make sure that your stay here was one of tropical tranquility. Club M.B. has become the perfect vacation spot as a result of their hard work and wise rule.

All of these people worked 25 hours a day to help make this resort better than ever. As Nick Nirschl commented, "Before I worked in the office, I never knew how important they are to us."

As they've done in the past, they aided us in making the decisions that lead us to success. We'll always be grateful for what they have done.

To help things run smoothly, there is an addition to the faculty, the custodians, cafeteria workers, office staff, and special education assistants. Throughout the day they can be found on and around the campus, preparing our infamous school meals, picking up our leftovers, maintaining school cleanliness, or just keeping office matters on file. Working in the attendance office, Donis Kjellman says, "I enjoy meeting all the students. There is a good atmosphere between everybody." The custodians, cafeteria workers, office staff, and special education assistants usually arrive at school before the students and end their days long after the students have gone home. Their occupations keep them busy working long days just to make things better and nicer for the students. This combined staff helps to insure serenity at our tropical paradise.

It isn't always easy . . .
this thing called life
Plans don't always work out the way they're supposed to and misfortune sometimes clouds the horizon
But . . . no matter how lonely
the morning sun becomes we always have to remember that it's up to us —
we're the ones that have to push
the clouds away

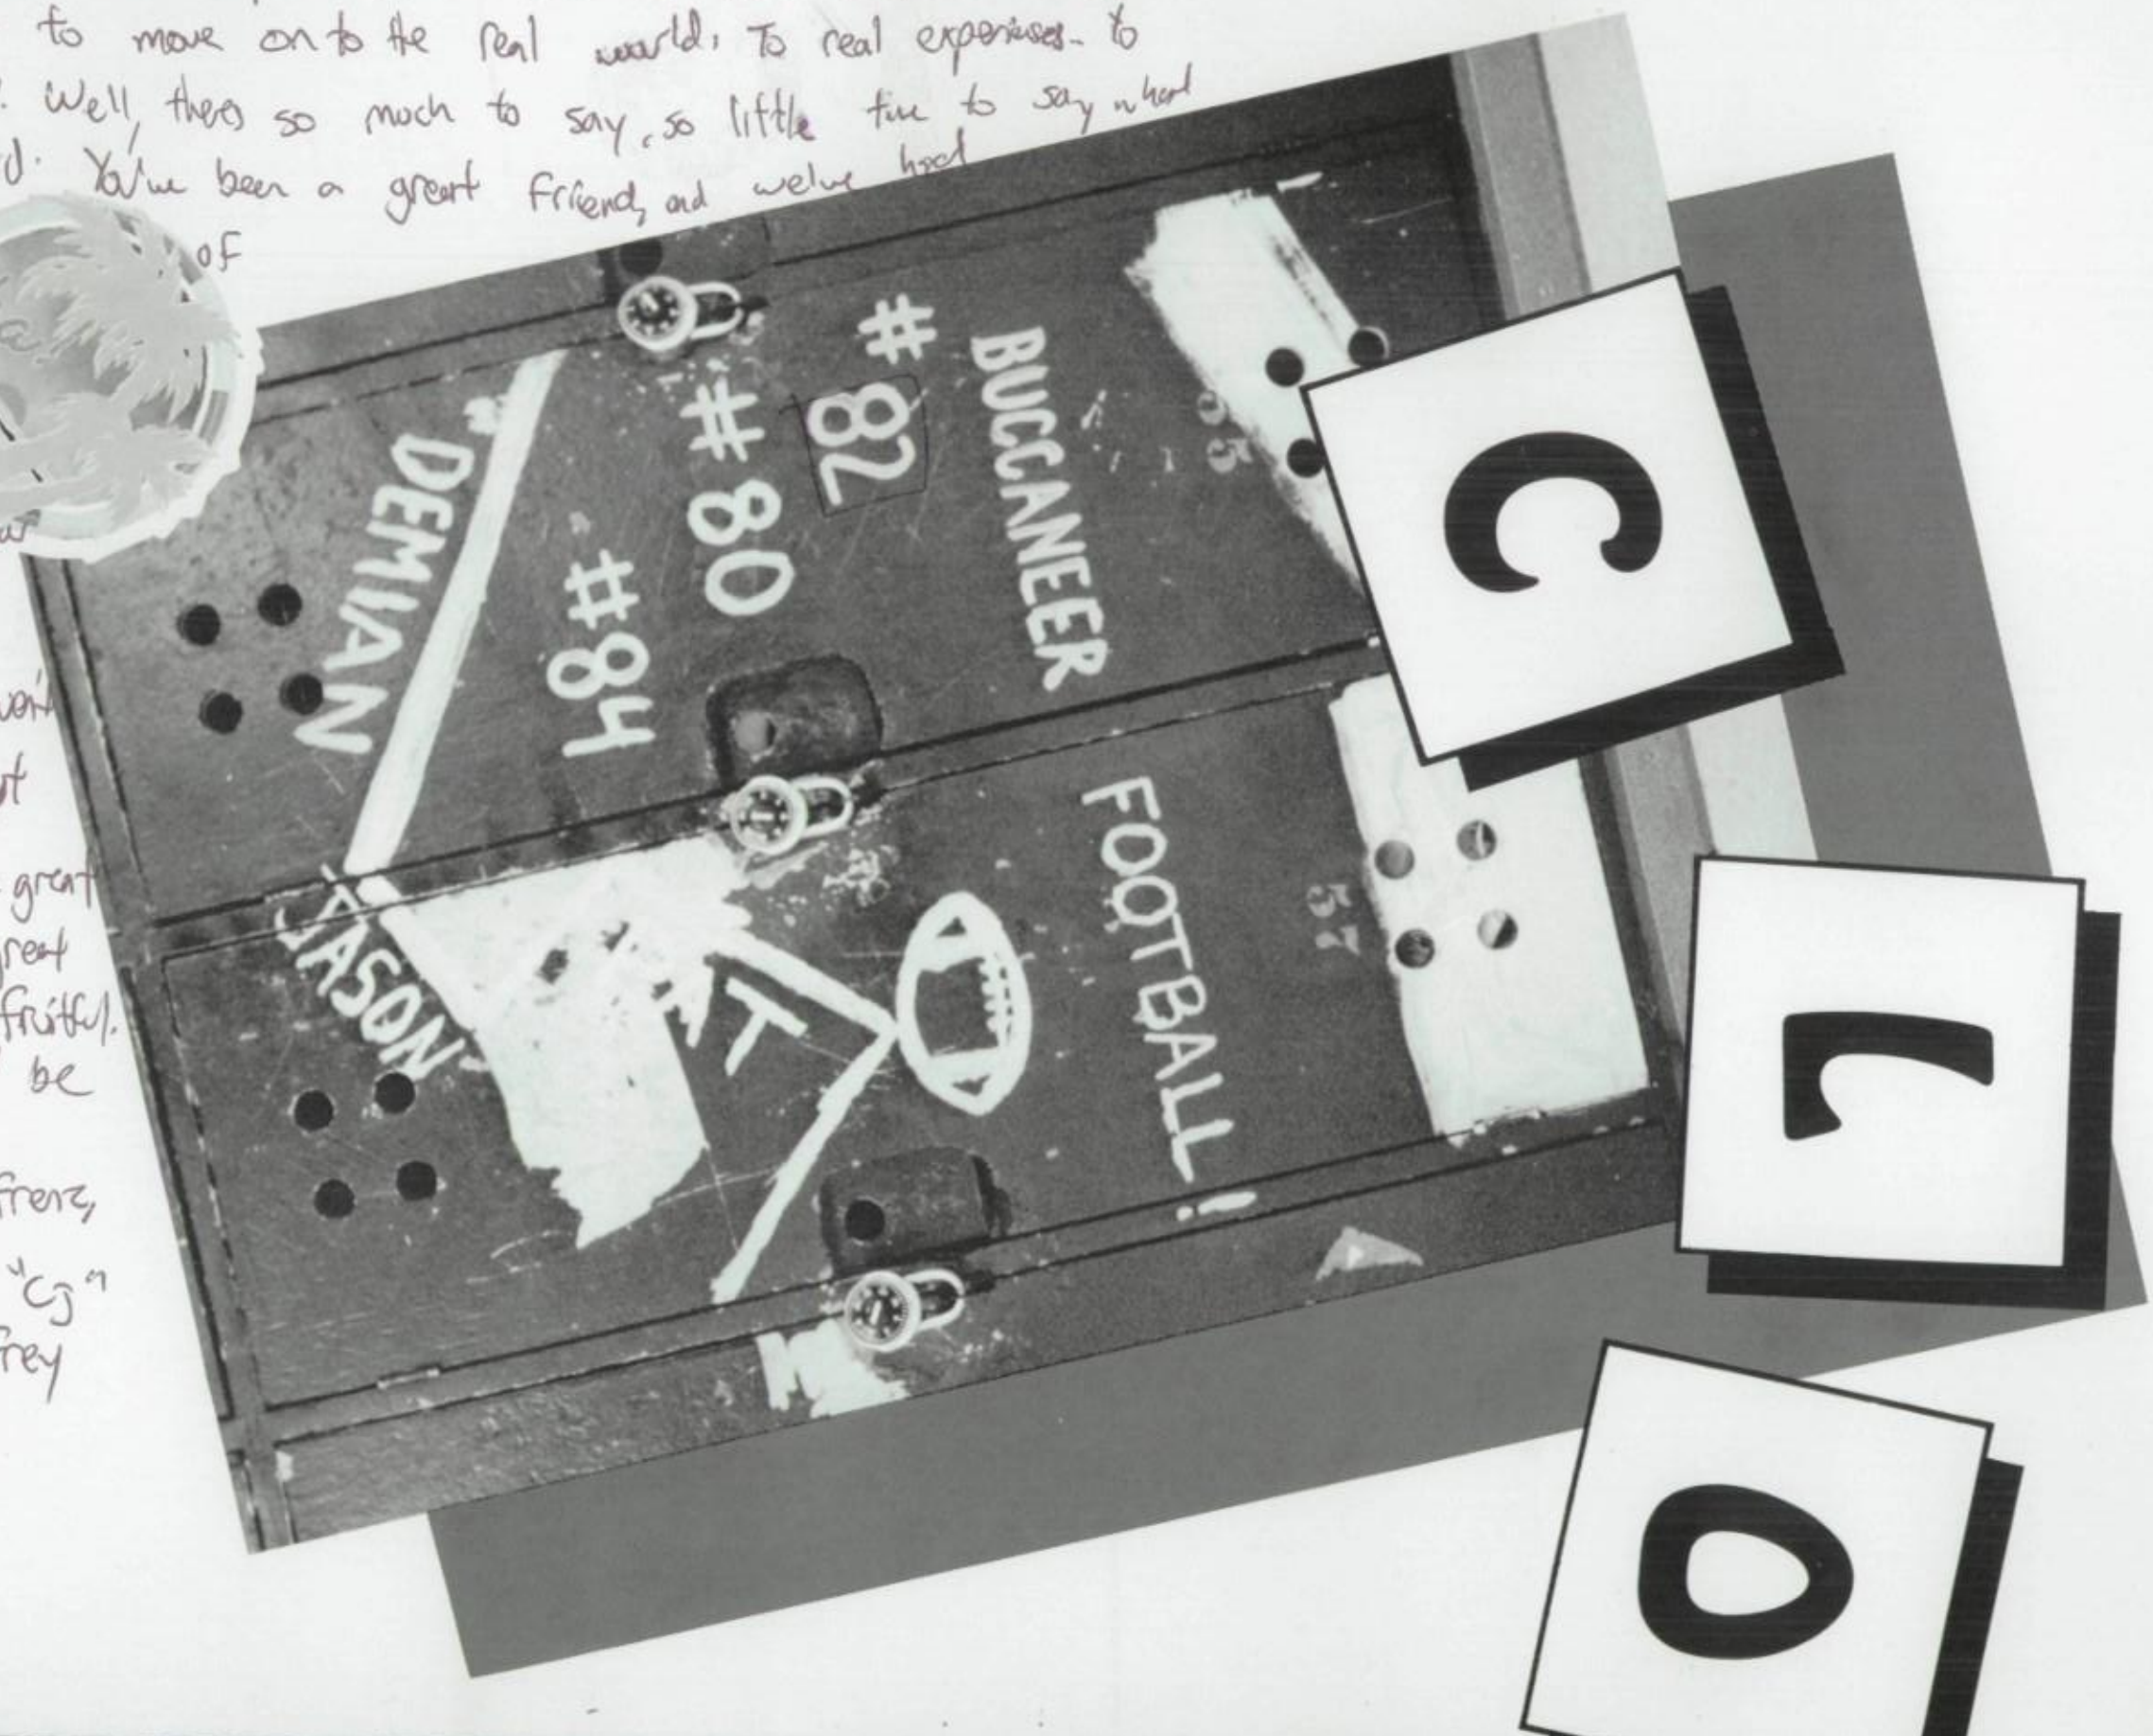
Heathies,

Hey Good looking, well, what can I say? Well, its been fun, all our experiences, and now its time to move on. Its time for yu to move on to the real world. To real experiences. To "real fun". Well, there so much to say, so little time to say what must be said. Ya've been a great friend, and we've had a lot of fun together. I hope that you have alot of fun after you leave this little world for the "big" one. I haven't said it enogh, but you've been a great friend, have a great future & be fruitful. Remember me and be Cheerful.

Love-n-frenz,
Charles "CJ"
#82 Frey

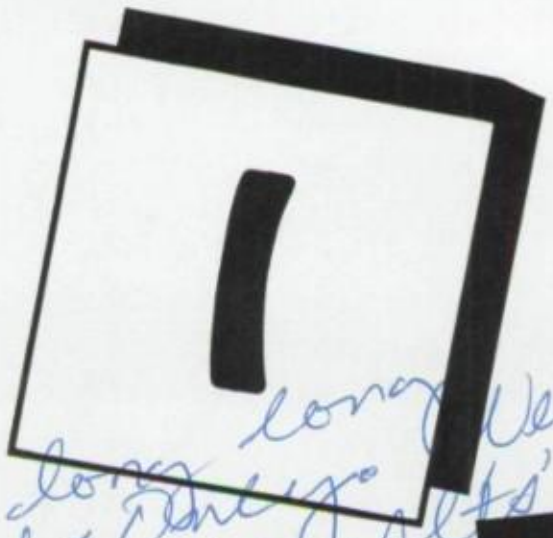


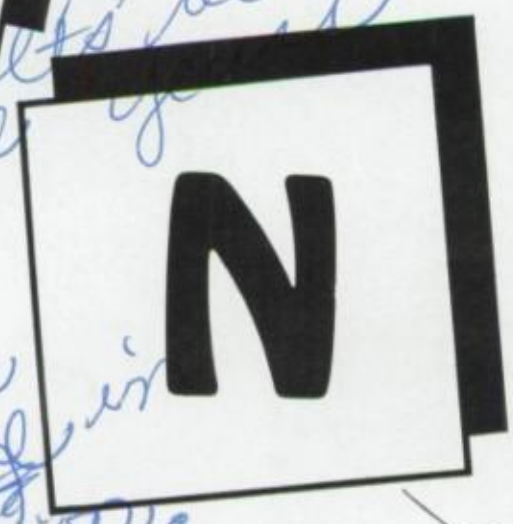
Heather,

Congrats! You made it thru high school. No more boring English papers, no more homework or stupid 5-minute passing periods. But we also have to say goodbye to friends, and that's the hard part. Thanks for smiling so much these last 2 years and for all your school spirit; you did make a difference!

Good luck in college & have a great summer!!

Jim Thiede





Heather,

You and I go back all long way to Emerald & Ohio. I wish me you Rosalie & Lets keep knowing you all these years. I hope you have a great summer, good luck in the future, & hope to see you sometime in the future, or the reunion.

Happy Graduation

your friend

Tony Lagoia

P.S. Rosalie says hi!

Heather,

Hey! We are out of school. I am very glad to have known you. You have a great personality. Good luck in the future with whatever you decide to do in life.

Lots of Love,

Lori Fullmer

...That's all Folks

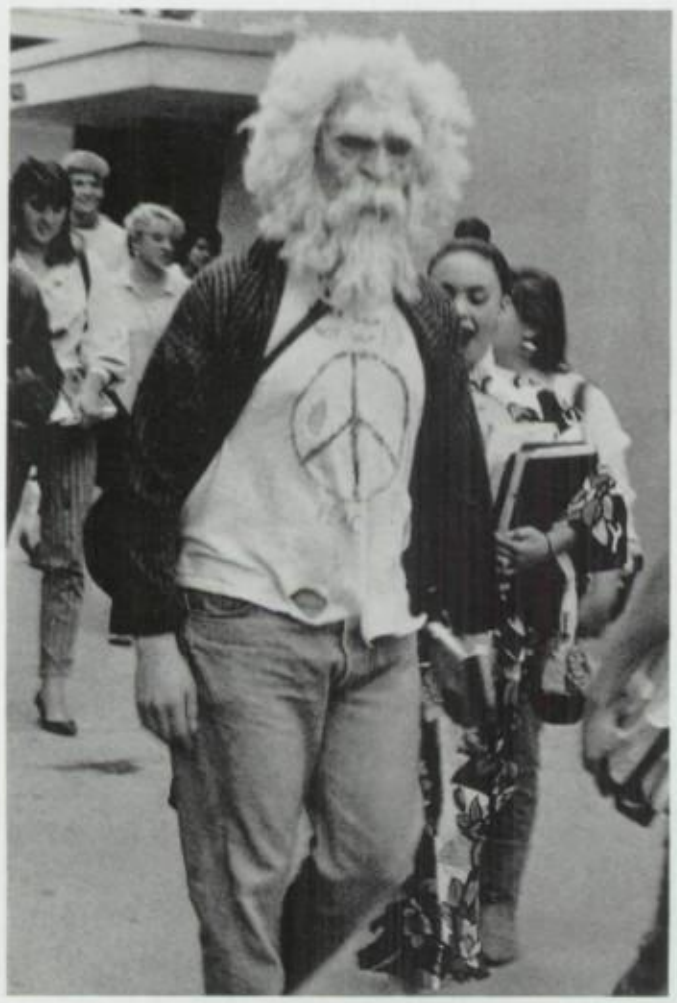
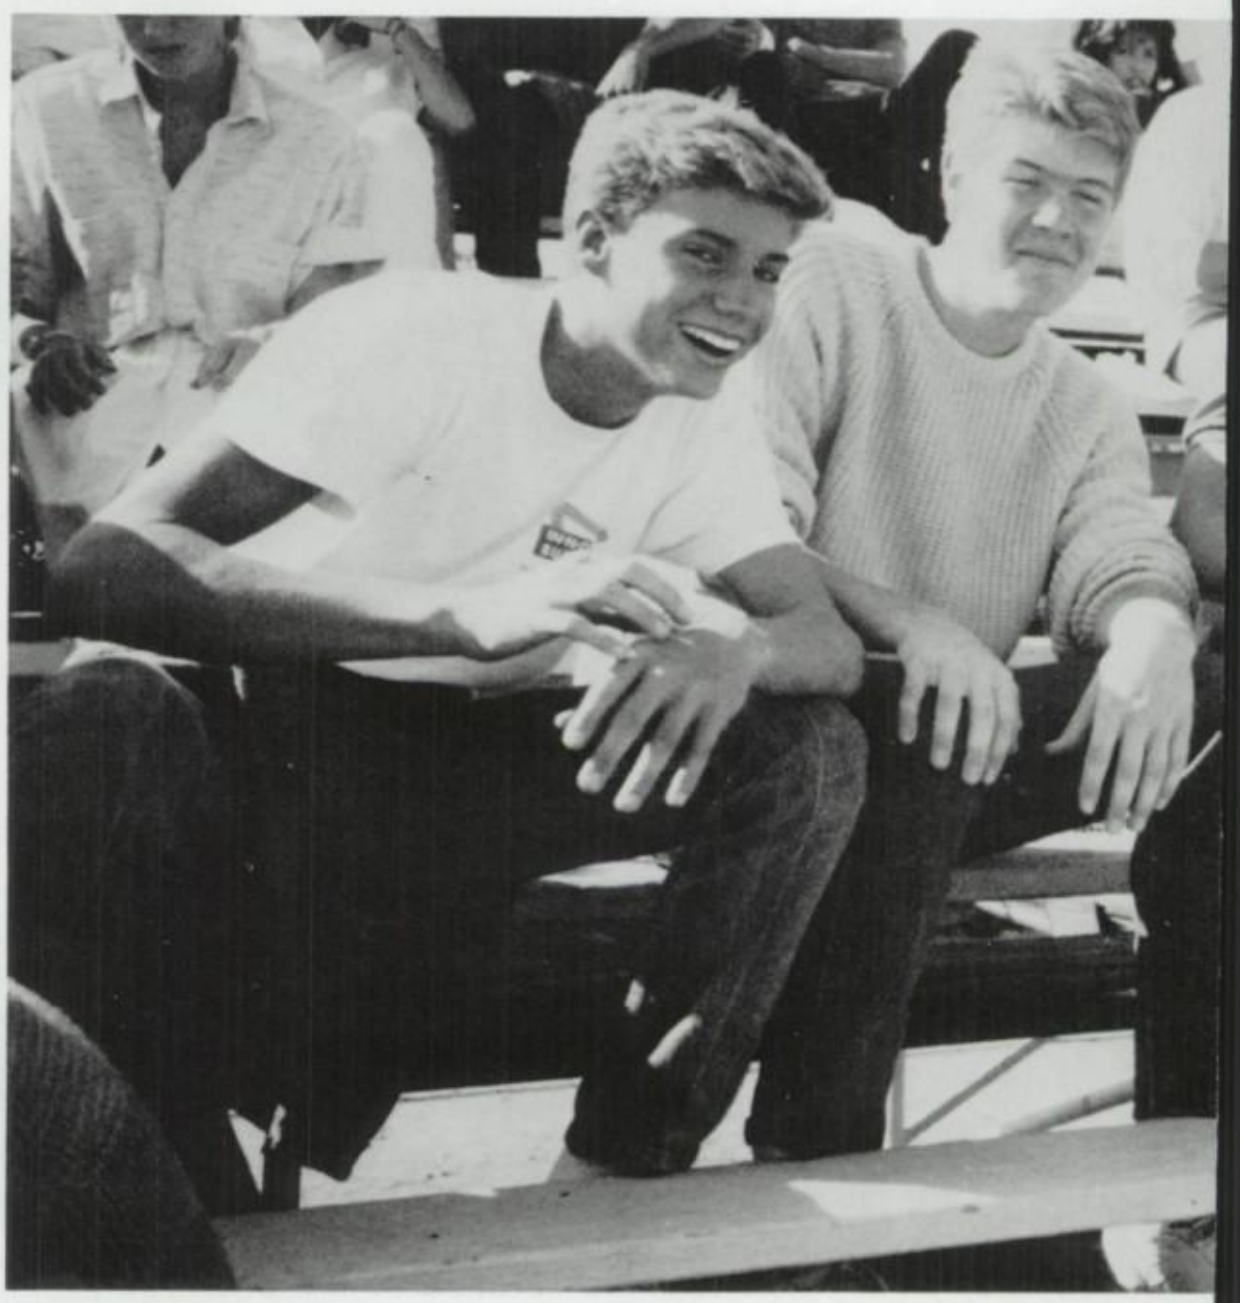
All good things must come to an end, and Club M.B. is no exception. For the Senior members of our tour group, the trip is over. It is their time to either go back to the real world or move on to a college vacation site. For the rest of our traveling troupe, there is at least another year of hearing Mr. Milton yell "Bullpuckey!", seeing Mr. Maquet wave his arms wildly and listening to Mr. Robinson reminisce about his days as a college cheerleader. High school may seem like a real drag at times, but down the road, you will always remember these 3 or 4 years. The end of the trip always ends in the traditional graduation ceremony, to say farewell to these senior travelers. When you settle down with 14 children and a $30 grand a year job down the road, always remember Club M.B. and the best years of your life.



A blast from the past: Mission Bay High in 1967.

"I'll pretend I don't notice you taking my picture," strolls Moreen.

"Darn It, I thought I could get away with stealing this locker door."



Brett Grebing, Ken North, and Keith Berkely get blinded by the sun while watching the Bucs.

Sandy Jones brushes her breath with Dentyne.

The Thinker in action: Greg Haynes

"Only three more days to graduation!", beams Kendall Ackroyd.

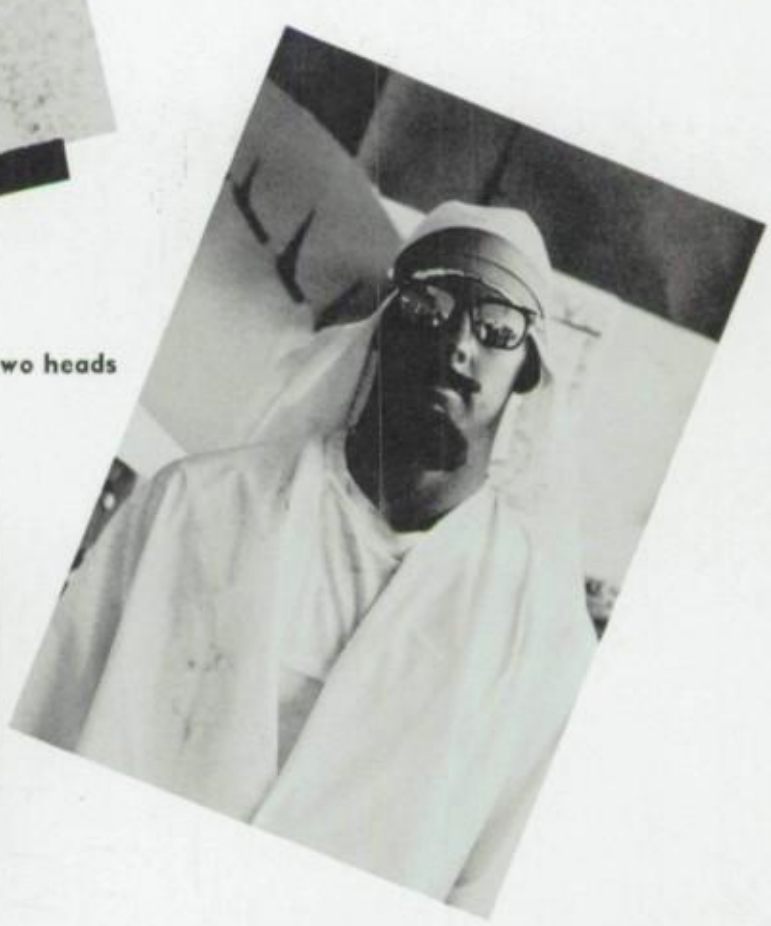
Even pumpkins have fun at Club M.B.

With incredible coordination and skill, Kevin Mooreland shows how to open a Coke can.

Camille Sallave and Hayley Coburn prove two heads are better than one.

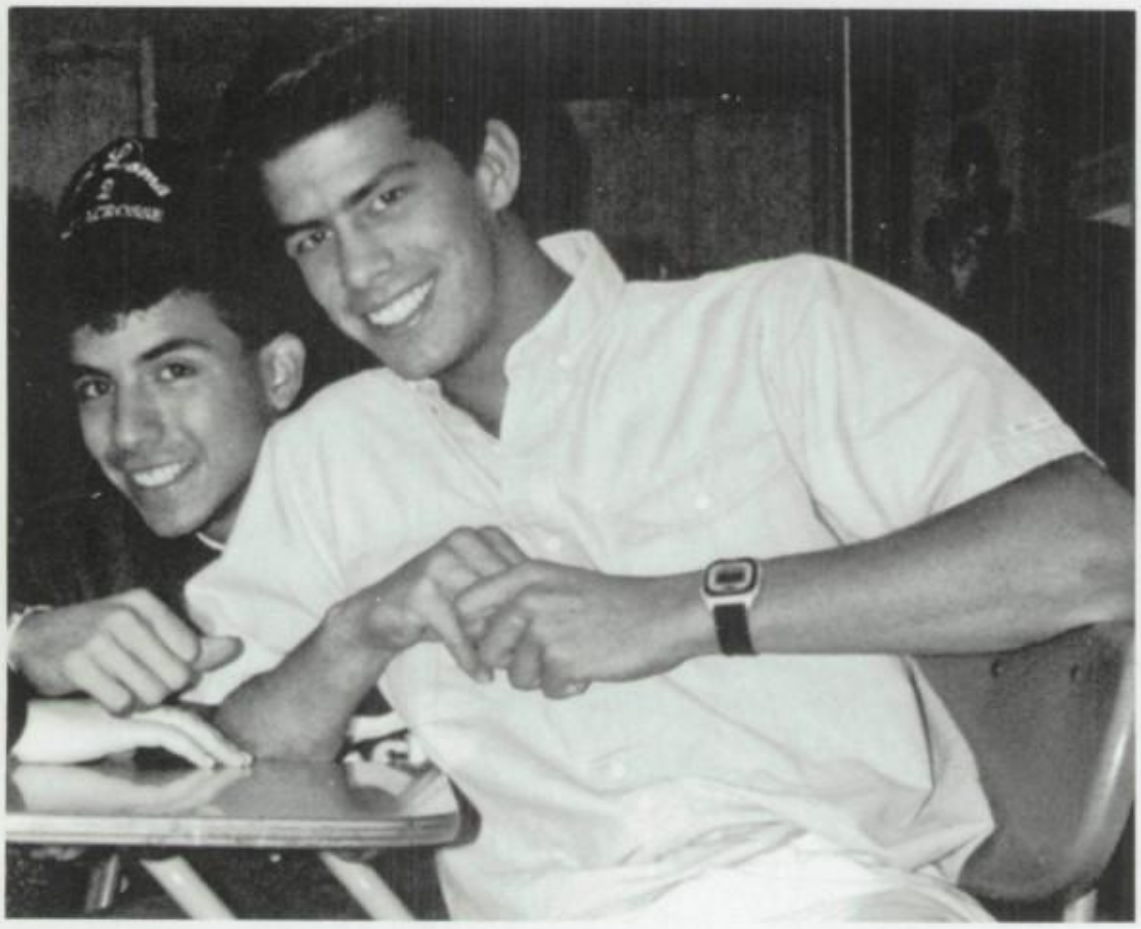
Just before his illegal Walkman was taken away, Mark White gets down.

"Why are you stealing my shoes?" inquires an M.B. dancegoer.



"More oil, Sahib?" states Kevin O'Connell.

The Field Hockey team has reason to smile; they get to eat what they didn't sell at their bake sale.



Larry and Marc make every class fun.

Even injured, Lonnie Stephens still has a good time!

Two Davids in one place; now that's funny.

David and Aaron warm up for the Air Band competition.

Even J.V. Football players keep us on our toes.

All players enjoy themselves on and off the field.

Rocken Rob and Kevin rock to the sounds of "friends."

Joe DeMille, a born musician, prepares for air band.

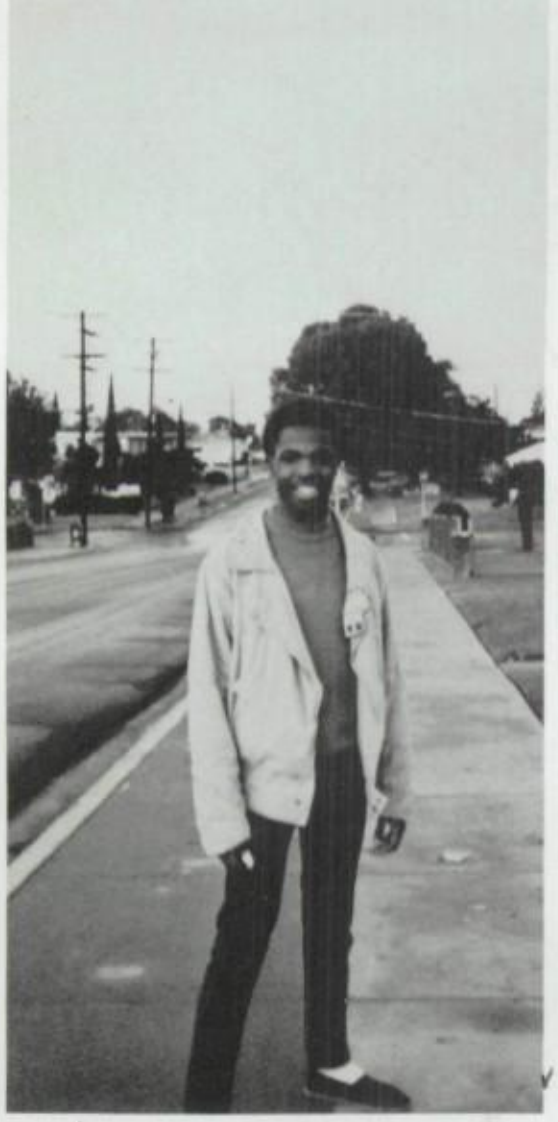
Lisa and Ericka show their good sides.

Rick and his date enjoy themselves at basketball homecoming.

Happy students do exist, proves Ed Hardeman.

Adolfo Lopez; a happy senior.

Chris White, not just an average student, pauses to smile.



Mark Klingler and David Greene pose for an everyday picture.

Heather - its been real discussing men problems with you. I do love you and a fulfilling and rewarding lifetime. Be happy and successful! Take care love Jennifer Jackson

Heathier,
Finally. No more Mr. Young's class, but better yet no more of the high school scene! Have fun this summer and throughout life. I will miss you. Good luck in all you do. Love Julie Tuckwell

The 1986-87 Taroga Volume 31 was printed in Marceline, Missouri by the Herff Jones publishing company. The book was made up of 8½ by 11 80lb. enamel paper which was used for all 264 pages. The endsheets were photographed at Busco-Nestor studio as was the group picture on page 32. The folio on all of the even pages was designed by Omar Manzanero. The cover was airbrushed by Susan White based on a drawing by Larry Gallegos. The theme "Club M.B." was thought of and developed by the '87 staff.

The first 32 pages contained both full and spot color. Our spot colors were Colonial Blue and Magenta. Our headlines were 36 pt. Alai. The copy was in 10 pt. Chelsea Black. The captions were in 8 pt. and the folios in 18 pt.

Senior and Underclass pictures were taken by Busco-Nester studios, who also furnished photographic supplies throughout the year.

The Taroga staff expresses its gratitude to all who helped make this yearbook.

"Yes, it's a real word. It's right here in the dictionary!" Marissela insists to Mike, always a concern to the yearbook staff.

Heather, I hope you have a nice summer! Stay in touch!

Heathier-
What can I say to you that I haven't already said. You are so dear to me that I don't know what I can say that you don't know. You have always been there for me when I needed someone to talk to. I don't know if I would have made it through yearbook. I know Joely wouldn't have made it! What am I gonna do this fall when we are 800 miles apart? I am gonna just die! Heathier, you are the dearest friend I have, ever have had or ever will have! Nobody in the world knows me like you do. We have been through so much, so many boys, so many tests, so many times when we had to yell at the stupid teachers. Lawlor! How did we ever get through that class! I can't believe we made it through all the better things in life! We both have so many boy interests — I'm so glad we both have so many boy interests for us both to talk about. I don't believe that it would be together all these years and we still be friends. I really am so glad that I met you this year. I don't know what I'll do without you this fall. Where will I turn when I have some big story to tell you? I'll sink back into being quiet again 'til I get home at Christmas —— !!

Heathier.
To a super cool girl with a super weirdly spelled name. Have a super fun future life. Too bad I only met ya this year. Your super nice. Good luck in whatever ya do. Don't party too much.
Love.
